Notice.

THE present volume takes the place of two publications which had down to 1893, been issued annually by the Government of India. These were the "Finance and Revenue Accounts and Miscellaneous Statistics relating to the Finances of British India, Part III," of which the 15th and last issue was published in 1893, and the "Statistical Tables relating to British India," of which the 17th and last issue was also published in 1893. All the statistics contained in those two volumes are continued in this volume, with the addition of tables showing the Income Tax revenue and charges.

SUMMARY OF CONTENTS AND EXPLANATORY MEMORANDA.

I.

AREA AND POPULATION.

[TABLES 1 TO 8, PAGES 1 TO 22.]

The area of the Empire is a little over 1½ million (1,560,080) square miles, but this does not include certain tracts the area of which has yet to be determined. This area contained 52,921,608 inhabited houses, being in the proportion of 34 to each square mile. The total population was about 287¼ millions (287,306,168), the average density being at the rate of 184 to the square mile. The increase in British territory, omitting those tracts for which no comparison can be made, namely, Upper Burma and Baluchistan, is about 9½ per cent. In the Feudatory States the increase is much greater, but it is more apparent than real, the Census of 1881 in some of those States having been very defective. The three most densely populated provinces are Oudh with 522, Bengal with 471, and the North-Western Provinces with 411 to the square mile. The only other approach to this density is found in Travancore and Cochin, with an average of 385 to the square mile. In the British districts of Madras the average is 252, and in all other British territory the average is much lower, being as small as 53 in Lower Burma and 35 in Upper Burma. In Kashmir the average falls to 31 to the square mile, the mountain ranges beyond the valley being very sparsely inhabited. Of the total population, 175,380,017 persons (male and female), being 61 per cent of the whole, are dependent on agriculture. There are also 25,467,971, being 8·86 per cent, classed as labourers. These two classes, therefore, constitute nearly 70 per cent of the population, and as the majority of the labourers work in the fields, it may be said that well over two-thirds of the people are dependent directly on the land. Persons engaged in commerce and trade number 8,638,450, being about 3 per cent, and persons engaged in industrial occupations 47,600,237, being about 16½ per cent of the population.

There are 76 towns with a population exceeding 50,000, 28 of them having a population exceeding 100,000, and 6 a population exceeding 200,000.

II.

SALT.

[TABLES 1 TO 21, PAGES 24 TO 49.]

Production.

The total quantity of salt produced in India in 1893 was a little over 21½ millions of maunds compared with 23½ millions in the preceding year, the production in Madras having been on a very reduced scale, owing to seasonal causes. This quantity was supplemented by 11,531,129 maunds of imported salt, the total quantity produced and imported amounting to 33,129,207 maunds, about 65 per cent of the whole being produced in India. Importation is practically limited to salt brought to Bengal and Burma from England, Germany, other countries in Europe, Aden, Muscat, Jeddah, and a few other places. Only a quite insignificant quantity is imported elsewhere than in Bengal and Burma, but there is also a trifling trans-Himálayan import. The localities where salt is manufactured are these :—

Consumption and Revenue.

In 1893-94, 33,628,736 maunds of salt paid duty, the duty realised amounting (exclusive of miscellaneous receipts) to Rx. 8,051,545, the quantity being 4·06 per cent and the duty 4·27 per cent less than in the previous year.

SALT—continued.

The subjoined table shows the progress in consumption in the last twenty-one years. In the five years ending with 1877-78 the increase was small, hardly exceeding an annual average of 1 per cent. In the next five years ending 1882-83 the rate of increase was nearly 3 per cent yearly. In the five years ending 1887-88 consumption again increased, the average annual rate being over 3 per cent. In 1888-89 consumption was restricted, mainly in consequence of the increase of the tax in January 1888, from ₹2 to ₹2½ in India and from three annas to sixteen annas in Burma. Prices were also kept at a comparatively high level in Bengal and in Madras. Consumption has since recovered, but the average of the five years ending 1892-93 was only 3·11 per cent. in excess of that of the previous five years. In 1893-94 there was only a fractional excess over the average of the last quinquennial period.

Bengal (Lower Provinces).

Tax levied on salt under the Muhammadan Government.

Under the Muhammadan rule a tax was levied on the salt consumed by the people of Bengal by means of imposts on the privilege of manufacture, and duties on the transportation of salt from the places of manufacture to the interior of the country.

Commencement of the East India Company's monopoly.

A monopoly for the manufacture and sale of salt was first established in Bengal by Lord Clive in 1765, the chief object being to provide fitting emoluments from the profits for the principal persons concerned in the Government, and thus to prevent their mixing in the intrigues and questionable transactions by which Civil Servants and others in those days often amassed enormous fortunes. Half the monopoly profits were to be distributed among the officers of Government, and the other half it was proposed to credit to the Company. In his minute of the 3rd September 1766, Lord Clive assumed that this share would yield, "according to the present state of the salt trade, from 12 to 13 lakhs of rupees annually." The rate fixed for deliveries was Rs. 2 per maund.

The existence of this monopoly was of but short duration, as the Court of Directors entirely disapproved the arrangements. At the same time, however, the Court stated that they did not object to the levying of the ancient duties on salt, which had always constituted part of the revenues of Bengal.

In the year 1772 the manufacture and wholesale trade of salt was farmed out by Government to private individuals; but this complicated farming system was never very productive and soon failed.

Establishment of the Company's salt agencies.

In 1780 Warren Hastings introduced a system for the manufacture and sale of salt under the agency of the Company's Civil Servants. In accordance with this system, the molunghees received advances from the agents at the beginning of the season, on the stipulation that they delivered their salt to the Government, when made, at a certain price, and the agents afterwards stored the salt and sold it to wholesale dealers at a price fixed from year to year by the Government.

The difference between the price agreed upon with the molunghees and the price at which it was delivered from store to the traders was thus in effect the duty levied upon the salt.

Bengal (Lower Provinces)—continued.

In 1788 the sale of salt by public auction, instead of at fixed rates to the dealers, was introduced by Lord Cornwallis. The revenue immediately rose, but the system was eventually abolished by the Court of Directors in 1837, as it was found to lead to the establishment of sub-monopolies, injurious to the interests of both the people and the Government.

Introduction of a fixed duty system.

In their despatch of the 4th January 1837, the Court of Directors ordered that the price to be thenceforward paid by the purchasers of salt should be determined by the cost price of manufacture, added to a fixed rate of duty.

The rates of duty since fixed from time to time have varied from a maximum of Rs. 3-4 to a minimum of Rs. 2 per maund; but the system for the manufacture and supply of salt, as introduced by Warren Hastings in 1780, continued in force with but few modifications until the year 1862, when the several salt agencies were gradually abolished, leaving the supply of salt, either by importation or excise manufacture, to private enterprise. The several salt agencies were situated in the province of Orissa and in the districts of Chittagong, the 24-Parganas, Jessore, and Midnapore.

Exception in the rule as regards the fixed duty.

The full rate of duty on salt was not, however, levied uniformly throughout Bengal until 1862. From the year 1810 a system of retail sales at reduced prices from shops established on the part of Government was introduced in districts and localities where salt was manufactured, or was capable of being easily produced; the object being, as stated at the time, to leave the people residing in such tracts without excuse for violating the law under the temptation of a high rate of duty, and to obtain some revenue in a part of the country where, from the great facilities for smuggling, it had been found impracticable to realise full prices.

From inquiries held during the years 1860 and 1861, the Government concluded that the loss of revenue entailed by the remission of a large proportion of the duty on the salt consumed within the saliferous tracts was, under existing circumstances, far larger than would arise were the full duty levied.

The system of retail sales at reduced prices was therefore abolished from the year 1862.

Preventive arrangements for the protection of the revenue.

From the commencement of the salt monopoly, a preventive establishment was employed for the protection of the revenue. This establishment was for the most part separate from, and independent of, the agency constituted for the manufacture and supply of salt, and was employed in Northern Bihár to prevent the influx of more lightly taxed salt from the westward, and also within certain defined limits which included the saliferous tracts on the seaboard of Lower Bengal.

By Regulation X of 1819 the general control of this preventive department was vested in the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium established in that year.

On the passing of Act XIV of 1843, imposing an additional duty of one rupee per maund on salt passing from the North-Western Provinces to the eastward of Allahabad, the establishment in Bihár was withdrawn. The one rupee was in June 1847 reduced to 12 annas, and in April 1849 to 8 annas. In March 1861 the additional duty was abolished.

In Lower Bengal the limits within which the preventive force were entertained have been narrowed from time to time so as to concentrate their operations in the salt-producing tracts only.

A further check.

As a further check against illicit manufacture within these limits, all salt under transport was required to be conveyed by certain specified routes and pass stations, and to be covered by protective documents, under penalty of confiscation. Merchants and dealers were also required to record all sales and losses from their stocks on the reverse of their protective documents.

The law and rules on this subject have been modified from time to time. Those now in force are contained in Act VII of 1864 and the Government Notifications issued under that Act.

In 1863 the special preventive establishment was abolished, and all duties previously discharged by them were delegated to the regular police force. In addition to the sea-coast and salt-producing tracts, the police have also to guard the frontiers of Arakan to prevent the ingress of the more lightly taxed salt from those districts.

The administration of the Salt Department in Orissa was formally made over to the Commissioner of Salt Revenue, Madras, in February 1888, and the Indian Salt Act, XII of 1882, has been in force there since.

Commencement and progress of excise manufacture.

In 1835-36 the excise manufacture of salt was first commenced by private individuals, but the discontinuance of the system was ordered by the Court of Directors in 1840.

In 1847 the manufacture of salt under certain excise rules was again permitted, but for many years the quantity produced was very small.

Excise manufacture was carried on to a considerable extent in Orissa for some years, and the quantities made were at one time sufficient for the supply of the province; but latterly it has greatly fallen off. In 1867-68 it was recommenced, though on a small scale, in the district of the 24-Parganas, and continued until 1881-82, after which it was abandoned.

Bengal (Lower Provinces)—concluded.

In 1891 the direct manufacture of salt by Government was re-introduced into Orissa with a view to afford employment to the molunghees and reduce the price of salt.

Importations of salt by sea.

Foreign salt was first imported into Bengal in the year 1818-19. No large importations, however, occurred until the year 1835-36.

At first, and until the fixed duty system was adopted, customs dues were levied at such rates as were considered necessary to maintain the average prices of the Government sales.

The old stocks of salt manufactured at the Government agencies were exhausted in 1873-74, and since then the consumption in the whole of Bengal, with the exception of Orissa, may be said to have been supplied by imported salt.

The following are the descriptions of salt now commonly imported, the bulk of the importations being from Liverpool:—

Manufactured by solar evaporation: Bombay, Madras, Ceylon, Jeddah, Muscat, Aden, Italy, and France.

Manufactured by boiling: Liverpool and Hamburg.

Rock Salt: Muscat.

Rates of Duty.

The rate of duty on salt in Bengal has been as follows: From 1837 to 1844 Rs. 3-4-0 per maund. In November 1844 Rs. 3, in April 1847 Rs. 2-12-0, and in April 1849 Rs. 2-8-0. In December 1859 the duty was again raised to Rs. 3, and in March 1861 to Rs. 3-4-0. In January 1878 the rate was reduced to Rs. 3-2-0, in August 1878 to Rs. 2-14-0, and in March 1882 to Rs. 2. On 19th January 1888 the rate was raised to Rs. 2-8-0, this being the rate now levied.

Conventions with the French Government in the matter of salt.

In 1815 a convention was made with the French Government, under the terms of which the East India Company agreed to supply sufficient salt for the consumption of the French Settlement of Chandernagore at prime cost from the Orissa and Midnapore agencies. The quantities of salt thus supplied free of duty varied from maunds 4,000 to 12,000 annually. This arrangement held good until the year 1839, when the Company entered into an engagement to pay annually a sum of Rs. 20,000 to the French Government on their agreeing to buy their salt in the open market at the price paid for it by other inhabitants of Bengal. This payment is still continued.

Madras Presidency.

In 1805, what is known as the monopoly system was established. Under that system the private manufacturers, who occasionally received advances from Government, and who were paid at different rates varying with the locality, were prevented from selling the salt to any but Government. The salt was resold by Government at a price calculated to include the purchase money paid to the manufacturers and the expense of storage, transport, etc., reduced to an average for the whole Presidency. This price was independent of duty, and at first was two annas, but by Act XVIII of 1877 it was fixed at three annas per maund; this Act was repealed by Act XII of 1882, which, however, prescribed no minimum for Government salt. But by section 8 of the Act the Local Government was empowered to fix, by notification in the local official Gazette, the minimum price at which the Government salt should be sold. No such notification has been issued and three annas per maund is still adopted as the minimum price of salt in most of the Government factories, though a special rate of two annas a maund has been sanctioned in two factories, with a view to stimulate the trade with Hyderabad in the case of Pandraka, and to get rid of the stocks in the case of the Vaippar factory which has been ordered to be closed.

2. In the eastern maritime districts these arrangements prevailed without modification up to 1881-82. In 1882-83 the excise system was introduced in the group of factories near Tuticorin; and was at the end of 1892-93 in force in 50 out of 69 factories, including the new factories and extensions opened for the accumulation of Government reserve stocks. Under this system manufacture, storage, and sales are carried on under Government supervision on private account, subject only to the payment of the duty on removal from store plus a cess to cover interest on the capital cost of the works executed by Government under the old system, and made over to the licensees on the introduction of excise.

3. It was expected that one effect of the excise system would be a reduction in the cost of salt to the consumer. This expectation has not, however, been yet realised, prices having on the contrary risen in many places, owing to combination on the part of a few capitalists who have managed to get the licensees into their hands. Government is now endeavouring to control prices by forming, in suitable centres, reserve stocks of salt which can be put into the market at reasonable prices, whenever prices show a tendency to rise too high, and the result of these measures so far is that prices have not risen further and seem to shew some tendency to fall.

4. In Malabar no salt is manufactured, and the district is supplied by imports from Bombay, Goa, and other places. These imports were formerly made by Government, but Government withdrew from the trade in 1877. In South Canara the excise system was substituted for the monopoly system in 1877, but the local manufacture of salt was abolished in 1883-84, as the salt produced was of inferior quality, and the pans were difficult and expensive to guard. Even when salt was manufactured locally, the supply fell short of the demand, and the deficiency was made good by importations from the Bombay Presidency as in Malabar. When these importations were made by the Government, that is, down to 1877-78 inclusive, the imported salt was sold at a price equal to the Madras duty, namely, the general gross selling price (less three annas a maund) plus the assumed cost of the salt. Private imports on payment of duty were also permitted, but the trade was almost non-existent until Government withdrew from importation, as the cost of salt sold by Government had been improperly fixed so low as to forbid competition. Since Government ceased to import the trade has greatly increased. Act XVI of 1879 renders the transport of salt in any vessel of less than 300 tons burden illegal on the west coast within a certain limit, unless under cover of passes which practically confine the privilege to duty-paid salt.

5. Certain quantities of salt are annually supplied to the French Settlements in the Madras Presidency, under an old convention with the French Government, at cost price. A further quantity, generally less than one thousand maunds annually, is also supplied at prime cost from the Canara District for the Amindivi Islands, but this salt does not now pass through the accounts of the Salt Department. It is purchased by the Collector of South Canara in the open market and supplied to the islanders at cost price inclusive of duty, the charges being adjusted in the accounts of the island.

6. When salt was purchased by the heap of 1,200 maunds without measurement or weighment, a discount of 5 per cent. on the general selling price was allowed until 1877-78. In a few instances a larger discount was allowed to wholesale purchasers, in order to clear out stores in remote parts of a district, or for other special reasons such as the clearances of old salt in the Kistna District, which had been injured in the cyclone of 1864.

7. The greater part of Mysore, a part of the Nizam's territory, and portions of the southern and eastern parts of the Central Provinces are supplied with Madras salt; but in these returns these supplies are not distinguished from the sales for consumption within the Madras Presidency.

8. The general selling price of salt in the Madras Presidency has been as follows, namely:—

9½	annas	a maund of 82¾lb	from 1805 to November 1809.
14	„	„ „	from November 1809 to a date in 1820.

14	„	„ „	from June 1828 to 31st March 1844.
1 rupee 8 annas		a maund,	reduced in the same year to 1 rupee a maund, from April 1844 to July 1859.
1	„ 2	„ „	from August 1859 to 2nd April 1861.
1	„ 6	„ „	from 3rd April to 3rd June 1861.
1	„ 8	„ „	from 24th June 1861 to a date in 1865-66.
1	„ 11	„ „	from a date in 1865-66 to October 1869.
2 rupees		a maund	from October 1869 to 27th December 1877.
2	„ 11	annas a maund	from 28th December 1877 to 9th March 1882.
2*	„ 3	„ „	from 10th March 1882 to 18th January 1888.
2	„ 11	„ „	from 19th January 1888 to date.

These rates are inclusive, as observed in paragraph 1, of a cost price of two annas, or latterly of three annas per maund, and were formerly abated by 5 per cent. for purchase, without measurement or weighment, of a heap of 1,200 maunds.

9. Until May 1865 Travancore and Cochin had monopolies of salt, the selling price in Travancore being Rs. 1-1 a maund and in Cochin 12 annas. By the convention of that year both States agreed to adopt the British Indian selling price of salt and to raise the rates at inland depôts, "so as to place the salt of Cochin, Travancore, and British India on the same footing in the market." The Cochin and Travancore States were to import salt from British India on the same terms as those on which it was imported into British Indian ports. The British Indian price was then Rs. 1-3, and, nominally at least, the selling price of the monopoly salt of Cochin and Travancore has followed the successive enhancements of the rate of duty in British territory.

Bombay Presidency, exclusive of Sind.

The salt produced in the Bombay Presidency is partially exported beyond the Presidency by land to Central India, including Rajputana and Malwa, the Central Provinces, the North-Western Provinces, and the Nizam's territories, and by sea to British and Foreign Malabar in the Madras Presidency, and to Calcutta and the Straits Settlements. Under existing arrangements exports, both by land and sea, pay full excise duty in Bombay, with the exception of those to Foreign Malabar, on which a nominal charge of 3 pies per maund only, to cover cost of establishment at the salt pans, is levied in pursuance of a trade convention concluded with Travancore and Cochin in 1865. Credit for periods varying from 60 to 90 days, according to destination, is allowed, however, in the case of full duty exports to the value of Rs. 2,000 and upwards, both by land and sea, on the exporter entering into an agreement and depositing Government securities, blank endorsed, of sufficient value to cover the duty. Down to 1874 exports to the Malabar coast were free, subject to payment of customs duty on arrival, and the same system was followed temporarily in the case of exports to Calcutta from 1860 (until which year excise duty had been levied subject to four months' credit under bonds) to 1874. In that year the system of prepayment of excise duty was made general. The plan of giving credit on security of Government paper was introduced almost simultaneously, and these arrangements have since been maintained with a short interruption during 1876-77, when exports to British Malabar were again allowed for a few months free of excise duty. Exports to Calcutta and to certain fixed ports on the Malabar coast are allowed a drawback of excise duty on actual wastage, not exceeding 5 per cent.

* In the Pandraka and Vaippar factories the selling price at present is Rs. 2-10 per maund, while at Ganjam it is Rs. 2-12 per maund.

Mr. Plowden remarks in his report on salt in British India, dated 24th May 1856, that "it was not until the 15th December 1837 that salt was erected, by Act No. XXVII of that year, into a source of considerable revenue in the Presidency of Bombay; prior to that date it was one of many miscellaneous items, as under the Native Government."

Under Act XXVII of 1837 the manufacture of salt in the Bombay Presidency was placed under restriction, and the locally manufactured salt was, in common with the importations of salt by sea and land, subjected to a duty of eight annas a maund. The object of the duty was to compensate partially the loss to the general revenue from the abolition of inland transit duties. In 1844, to set off a further loss of revenue from the abolition of the moturpha, or tax on trades and professions, the duty was raised from 1st September to one rupee a maund, but immediately after it was reduced in the same month, with effect from the same date, to 12 annas a maund, at which rate it continued until August 1859, when it was raised to one rupee a maund, and was again raised on 13th April 1861 to one rupee four annas, and on 20th January 1865 to one rupee and eight annas a maund. By Act XXIV of 1869 the duty was raised to one rupee thirteen annas a maund, and by Act XVIII of 1877 to two rupees and eight annas a maund. By notification, dated 10th March 1882, the duty was reduced to rupees two a maund, and again by notification, dated 19th January 1888, raised to two rupees and eight annas a maund.

Except in Gujrat, the excise system is followed, under which licenses are issued for private manufacture at places approved by the officers of Salt Revenue, which are guarded, and from which no removals are allowed, except upon payment of the prescribed duty, or under the credit rules already referred to. In Gujrat, where all the works in British territory are the property of Government, the monopoly system was introduced in 1873-74, and manufacture was concentrated at two places only—Kharaghora on the borders of the Runn, and Balsár on the sea coast of the Surat District. At Kharaghora large crystal salt is made from brine wells under departmental supervision, bought from the manufacturers as it is ready, stored, and sold at the cost and risk of Government. At Balsár the salt is ordinary sea-salt, and Government merely fixes the price at which it is to be sold without taking it over or interfering directly with manufacture. A small quantity of salt is issued annually free of duty from the works at Kharaghora to certain Native States and Chiefs in pursuance of the arrangements for the establishment of the monopoly.

By a treaty concluded in 1880, the manufacture of salt in Portuguese territory was placed under the control of the British Government for a term of twelve years. On the expiry of certain tentative arrangements made for the first three years, the salt works in Diu were handed back to the Portuguese authorities and private manufacture stopped at all works in Damaun and Goa, except such of those in Goa whose owners were willing to work under the British excise system. Besides these, manufacture was carried on at a certain number of selected works, either by the Portuguese Government on their own account, or by contractors for the British Government, to supply the quantity (about 140,000 maunds) of duty-free or nominal duty salt required annually, under the terms of the treaty, for local consumption, fish-curing and manure, or by sub-lessees on the excise system on refund to the British Government of the fixed compensation paid by the latter to the proprietors concerned. This treaty came to an end on the 14th January 1892, when British control over the Portuguese salt works ceased.

There were formerly certain works in Cambay at which the duty was shared between the Nawab, a territorial owner, and the British Government as successor to the chouth formerly levied by the Peshwa. This arrangement, however, ceased in 1878, when the works were finally closed by agreement with the Nawab, under which he is paid Rs. 40,000 as annual compensation and gets 500 maunds duty-free salt for his own consumption.

Besides the duty-free salt issued to certain Chiefs in Gujrat, the Nawab of Janjira is allowed, under a salt and customs convention concluded in 1884, to purchase and remove duty-free from the neighbouring salt works in British territory the quantity required for the use of himself and his subjects.

Sind.

Until the establishment of British rule, when the system was discontinued, a revenue was derived from salt under the system of batai, that is, a share of proceeds.

From 1843-44 (when Sind was annexed) to 1847 no duty was levied on salt.

About the year 1848 certain native speculators applied for permission to export to Bombay and Calcutta salt from the Sirganda deposit in the Shahbandar Division of the Karáchi District—a very extensive deposit of the purest salt—and were permitted to do so on payment of an excise duty of 12 annas per maund, which was the rate of duty in the Bombay Presidency at that time, a drawback to that amount being allowed at the place of import beyond Bombay.

A Company was started in the year 1854 to export salt to Calcutta, Malabar, and other places, and to supply Sind itself with salt at a cheap rate and monopolise the trade. The expectations of the Company that they would undersell manufactured salt in Sind and obtain a monopoly within the province were not realised, but they soon had a brisk export trade and were making considerable profits, when a question arose between the Sind authorities and the Bengal Government regarding payment at Calcutta of the drawback for excise duty paid at Karáchi on the quantity of salt exported. Payment of this drawback was claimed by the Sind authorities and refused by the Bengal Government; the salt-trade, while this discussion was going on, was suffering, for, weighted with an excise duty levied in Sind, plus the full duty in Bengal, it was unable to keep the market against Liverpool salt which just then ruled very low in Calcutta. The levy of both the export duty in Sind and the import duty in Bengal stopped the trade, and it ceased to be mentioned shortly after the Supreme Government had decided in favour of the Bengal authorities. Spasmodic efforts continued to be made to revive the export trade, but never successfully. A further effort is now being made by some European capitalists, and the Government of India have recently granted a monopoly for three years to a person under certain conditions for the removal of salt from the Sirganda deposit to Calcutta and to places outside the Bombay Presidency.

Salt intended for internal consumption in Sind continued untaxed until the year 1861, when the Government of India suggested that a duty should be levied on salt manufactured or imported into Sind, and, after some correspondence, the Government of India accepted a proposition made by Mr. Inverarity to "regulate the manufacture of salt under a system of licenses, the cost of which is to be determined by the Collector with reference to the probable outturn of the factories at a rate of excise fixed at 8 annas a maund, an excise duty at the same rate being levied on all salt imported into Sind from the neighbouring States." Though it accepted this proposal, the Government of India remarked that it was preferable, if practicable, that the correct principle of taxing every maund of salt manufactured should be asserted.

In June 1862 at all factories a duty of 8 annas per maund was levied, and the same duty was levied on salt imported into Sind from neighbouring States by sea or river, but no duty was levied on salt sent by land, it having paid the duty at the place from which it was imported.

In the Frontier District the duty at the manufactories was levied from 1863-64 up to 1866-67.

From 1867-68 to 1868-69 the Government duty levied at the factories was Rs. 0-8-6 per maund.

The "License System" was prolific in abuses and was superseded for a time by the "Farm System." This was found even more defective and injurious to the salt revenue, and the license system was, therefore, again resorted to; but a system under which manufacture was permitted at hundreds of small earth-salt factories scattered over all parts of the province was generally condemned, and Government approved proposals for the suppression of the manufacture of earth-salt, the working of the natural deposits, and the collection of stocks at central stores while their distribution was left to private enterprise. To put these measures in operation it became necessary to organise the Sind Salt Department in its present form to secure the full collection of the revenue and to watch and prevent illicit practices.

The duty was raised at the commencement of 1878 from 8 annas to Rs. 2-8-0, as in other parts of India; in 1882 it was reduced to Rs. 2 a maund, and in January 1888 it was again raised to Rs. 2-8 per maund.

There are four salt sources in Sind from which salt is now issued to the public, namely, the Maurypur works, the Saran and Dilyar deposits, and the Sukkur depôt. The Maurypur works, where the salt is manufactured by solar evaporation, were opened in the year 1878, and from these almost the whole province is supplied.

The works are situated on the Moach plain adjacent to the end of the harbour, from which by narrow channels the brine supply is obtained, reaching the storage wells by percolation. The works are surrounded by a water channel, inside which is a bund about five feet high. In the centre of the works are two platforms on which salt is stored in large stacks covered with matting.

The Saran and Dilyar deposits were opened in 1879 and 1882 respectively. The salt is formed in a lake or dhund from which, when the water dries, salt is excavated and stored. It is supplied to the inhabitants of the neighbouring villages of the Thar and Parkar districts.

The Sukkur depôt was opened on the 1st April 1884, salt being sent thither from the Maurypur works for the convenience of the people living in the Shikarpur District.

The State of Khairpur is supplied with salt from Sukkur and Dilyar duty-free, and all salt factories in Khairpur territory are closed.

All the salt works open at the time of the license and farming systems have been closed, and the revenue is protected by a preventive establishment who guard the natural salt formations in Sind as well as check illicit manufacture and smuggling from foreign territory.

Northern India.

The revenue was formerly collected through the agency of the Inland Customs Line, which was formed in 1843-44 and was extended at various times, until it reached from Torbela near Attock, on the Indus, to the Mahanadi in the Sambalpur District of the Central Provinces. It was 2,472 miles in length, and was manned by 10,496 officers and men. In consequence of the development of railway communication, 764 miles of this line were abolished in the Central Provinces in 1874-75, and eventually in 1878-79 the whole line from the western extremity of the Multan Division in the Panjab to the Central Provinces was removed. There remain now 543 miles, from the northern extremity of the Hazara District of the Panjab extending along the Indus to the junction of that river with the Sutlej, maintained for the purpose of preventing the low-taxed Kohat salt from crossing into the Panjab.

Irrespective of this line, in February 1870 the Inland Customs Department assumed charge of the Sambhar lake belonging conjointly to the States of Jaipur and Jodhpur, and in October 1878 they received charge of the salt sources at Pachbadra, Didwana, Phalodi, and Luni from the Jodhpur State.

The salt works at Sultanpur in the Delhi Division are also worked under the supervision of the Northern India Salt Revenue Department. It has further the charge of the salt mines in the salt range in the Panjab, and of a force designated the Internal Branch existing in Oudh, the North-West Provinces, the Panjab, Rajputana, Bihár, and in Calcutta, for the supervision of the saltpetre trade, for the levy of duty on salt educed from saltpetre, and for the control of the manufacture of other saline substances, such as sulphate of soda, carbonate of soda, etc.

The whole Inland Customs Department (now the Department of Salt Revenue in Northern India) is administered by the Commissioner of Northern India Salt Revenue, formerly responsible to the respective Local Governments and Administrations within whose jurisdictions the customs organisation was established, but now immediately under the Government of India.

The duties levied on the customs line were on salt imported and sugar exported.

The general rates of duty on salt were as follow:—

with the following exceptions: In the Sirsa Division of the Panjab section, the duty was 8 annas per maund for a part of 1843-44, when it was raised to Re. 1 per maund, at which figure it remained until 1846-47, when the duty was equalised with that generally levied. In the Saugor Division of the Central Provinces section a rate of Re. 1-8 per maund prevailed from the formation of the division in 1855-56 till the introduction of the general rate in 1859-60. In the Hoshungabad Division, also formed in 1855-56, Re. 1 per maund was levied until a date in 1859-60, and thereafter Re. 1-8 until the general rate was introduced in 1860-61.

The duty on Madras salt entering the Central Provinces was levied, from the outset until the abolition of the portion of the line across which it passed, at Re. 1-8 per maund.

Bombay salt entering the Central Provinces paid from the outset at the rate of Re. 1-8 per maund until 1st May 1874, when a mileage rate was introduced on all salt travelling by rail from Bombay, the object of the differential rate being to level up the duty to a uniform rate by the time it reached Jubbulpore, where it came in contact with Northern India salt paying Rs. 3 duty. This mileage rate was abolished in 1878, when the salt duty was made uniform throughout India (except in Bengal and British Burma).

Salt excavated in the Sindh Saugor Doab and the Kalabagh mines was subject to duty as follows:—

	PER MAUND. Rs.
From 1849-50 to April 1860	2
From April 1860 to September 1861	2-2
From September 1861 to December 1877	3
From January 1878 to July 1878	2-12
From July 1878 to March 1882	2-8
From 10th March 1882 to 18th January 1888	2
From 19th January 1888 to date	2-8

Salt excavated at the Kohat mines was subject to a duty of 4 annas, 3 annas, and 2 annas per maund. A uniform rate of 8 annas per Lahori maund at all the mines was introduced with effect from the 7th July 1883.

Salt educed in the process of manufacturing saltpetre has always been subject to the duty prevailing in Northern India.

Lower Burma.

In 1862 the tax on salt was levied upon pots employed in the manufacture at the following rates :—

For each earthen pot holding about 6 gallons, 8 annas; each iron cauldron, Rs. 5 (or at these rates, according to capacity).

In 1867 the rates were as follows:—

In the Pegu Division—

I.—Rangoon District—

Each earthen pot holding about 6 gallons, 12 annas; each iron cauldron, Rs. 5 (or at these rates, according to capacity).

II.—Bassein District—

Each earthen pot holding about 6 gallons, 8 annas; each iron cauldron, Rs. 5 (or at these rates, according to capacity).

III.—Myanaung (now Henzada and Tharawaddy) District—

Each earthen pot, if used, 2 annas; each iron cauldron, if used, Re. 1.

In the Tenasserim Division, except the Martaban (now Amherst) District—

Each earthen pot producing on the average 1 viss of salt at the boiling, 8 annas; each iron cauldron, Rs. 2-8-0 (or at these rates, according to capacity).

In the Martaban (now Amherst) District—

Each earthen pot, 6 annas.

In the Arakan Division—

Each earthen pot, 8 annas.

Between 1879 and 1882 the salt excise revenue was levied under the authority of the Lower Burma Land and Revenue Act, 1876, section 39 of which authorised the Chief Commissioner to make rules—

(a) for granting licenses to manufacture salt;

(b) for imposing on all salt manufactured a duty at a rate not exceeding the rate of customs duty for the time payable on salt imported by sea;

(c) for compounding with any holder of a license for the payment by him of an annual sum assessed upon the plant employed by him in lieu of the duty which would be payable to him on the salt produced with the aid of such plant.

Rules made under this section in 1879 provided—

(i) that on all salt manufactured in British Burma an excise duty should be levied at the rate at which customs duty was for the time being levied on salt imported by sea;

(ii) that in lieu of the said duty an annual sum should be assessed upon the pots or cauldrons used in the manufacture, at a rate not exceeding Re. 1 per pot and Rs. 5 per cauldron.

The rates in force before the passing of the Burma Land and Revenue Act were still maintained.

Section 39 (b) of the Burma Land and Revenue Act, 1876, was repealed by Act XII of 1882, and Finance and Commerce Department Notification No. 751, dated the 28th April 1882, provided that the excise duty levied on salt manufactured in British Burma should be 3 annas a maund. The practice under which this excise duty was compounded for an annual sum calculated on the implements of manufacture was still maintained, and no change was made in the rates of composition. Finance and Commerce Department Notification No. 343, dated the 19th January 1888, raised the duty on salt in Lower Burma to Re. 1 a maund. This increase rendered a proportional increase necessary in the rates of composition duty. Successive notifications were accordingly published in 1888, 1889, and 1890, under which the composition duty was gradually raised until it reached the amount which was believed to represent the sum which would have been obtained if an excise duty had been directly levied. The composition duty now levied under the Notification of 1890 is as follows :—

Upper Burma.

Licenses are issued for one year, and the duty is payable half before the issue of the license, and the remainder in two instalments in the course of the year for which the license is issued.

In Upper Burma before annexation the manufacture of salt was carried on in various parts of the country, and a certain amount of revenue was derived from it by taxing the implements of manufacture. In 1888, after information had been gathered as to the nature and extent of the industry, a duty of Rs. 5 on each pan used in manufacture was imposed in all districts in which the manufacture of salt had previously been untaxed, and of Rs. 10 where it had been customary to pay a tax. At the same time manufacturers of salt were required to take out licenses. Further enquiries were made in 1889 and 1890 concerning the salt industry in Upper Burma, and in 1889* the same duty was imposed on salt imported into or manufactured in Upper as in Lower Burma, namely, Re. 1 a maund. In 1890 the following rates were fixed as the duty payable in lieu of the excise duty of Re. 1 a maund, which they were believed to represent as nearly as possible. At the same time the manufacture of salt was prohibited except in the districts for which rates were fixed and in the Upper Chindwin District:—

* Finance and Commerce Department Notification No. 2985, dated 14th June 1889.

District.	Rates.
Minbu, Pakôkku, Magwe, Myingyan, Yamèthin, Meiktila	Per earthen pot or bowl-shaped iron cauldron of from 2 to 2½ gallons capacity, Rs. 5; per bowl-shaped iron cauldron, 6 gallons or upwards in capacity, Rs. 10.
Lower Chindwin	Per filter-bed or "sapaing," Rs. 20.

Private Wells.

Sagaing	Per bowl-shaped iron cauldron of from 6 to 7 gallons capacity, used for boiling down brine obtained by the lixiviation of natural saline efflorescence, Rs. 10.
Shwebo	Per bowl-shaped iron cauldron of from 6 to 7 gallons capacity, used for boiling down brine obtained from brine wells, Rs. 25.
Katha	At the village of Kangyi, Rs. 10. At the villages of Sahgyin, Hetin, and Haungtôn per bowl-shaped iron cauldron of from 6 to 7 gallons capacity, Rs. 20.

Royal Wells.

Shwebo	The equivalent in cash of the royal share of the salt manufactured from these wells.

Duty on Salt imported by Sea into Burma.

No information is available as regards the duty on salt imported before 1855. Under the provisions of section III, Act XXX of 1854, beginning from the 1st day of January 1855, the maximum duty fixed on salt imported by sea into any part of the Arakan, Pegu, Martaban, and Tenasserim provinces was 8 annas a maund, but it is not known whether the maximum rate was ever imposed. The Act also provided for an export duty of 4 annas a maund on salt exported beyond the northern frontier of Pegu by the Irrawaddy or the river Sittang. By Act XVI of 1875, the Indian Tariff, the rate of import duty on salt imported into British Burma was fixed at 3 annas per maund of 3,200 tolas, subsequently altered by Act XI of 1882 to 82⅔lb avoirdupois. This rate was raised to Re. 1 per maund of 82⅔lb avoirdupois, with effect from the 19th January 1888, and duty has since been levied at this rate.

OPIUM.

BENGAL OPIUM.

The tract in which the poppy is cultivated in Bengal comprises nine districts in the west of the Lower Provinces, situated in the divisions of Patna and Bhágalpur, and twenty-nine districts in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. The former districts are, in respect of opium, under the control of the Opium Agent, Bihár, whose head-quarters are at Patna. The latter are under the Opium Agent, Benares, whose head-quarters are at Ghazipur. At each of these places there is a Government factory at which the crude opium is manufactured into the form in which it passes into consumption. Subject to the immediate supervision of the Opium Agents and their respective staffs, the cultivation of the poppy and the manufacture of opium are regulated by Act XIII of 1857, under the general control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal and the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces. The possession, transport, import and export of opium are regulated by rules framed under section 5, Act I of 1878 (the Indian Opium Act).

Cultivation is permitted only under licenses granted under the authority of the Opium Agent. The area to be cultivated is fixed by the license, and the cultivator is bound to sell the whole of his outturn to the Opium Department at the rate fixed by Government. This rate has, since 1881-82, been Rs. 5 per ser of opium of seventy degrees consistency, but from 1894-95 the rate has been raised to Rs. 6 per ser. Advances according to fixed rates are given to the licensed cultivators on account of their crops, at the time of executing the agreement, and from time to time (though ordinarily not more than two advances are given), until final delivery. Interest is not charged on these advances. In March or April the opium is made over to the Opium officers and weighed and tested, and as soon as possible afterwards each cultivator's accounts are adjusted, and the balance due is paid to him.

The total area under cultivation during each of the last ten years and the outturn according to the weighments were as follows :—

After weighment the opium is taken to the Government factories at Patna and Ghazipur, where it is manufactured. The manufactured product is turned out in two* forms :—

(a) that which is intended for export to China and the Straits Settlements, technically known as "provision" opium, and

(b) that which is intended for consumption in India, technically known as "excise" opium.

Provision opium is made up in the form of balls or cakes, each weighing 3·5 lbs., and is packed in chests, each chest containing forty cakes, weighing 140 lbs.

Excise opium is made up in cubical packets, each weighing one ser.

* A small amount of opium for medical purposes is also made at Patna, and at Ghazipur morphia and codeia are made from opium not fit for other purposes.

Provision opium is sold by public auction in Calcutta. About June of each year, a notification is published stating the number of chests from each Agency which will be put up to sale in each month of the following calendar year, and the quantities so notified are not altered without three months' notice. The quantities depend on the amount manufactured and the reserve stock. The following statement shows, for each of the last ten years, the quantities sold, the average price realised per chest, the sale proceeds, and the reserve stock in hand at the end of the year.

* The cost differs slightly in the two factories. The figures represent the average of a chest from each factory without regard to the total outturn of each.

The duty levied by the Government on each chest may be taken to be the difference between the average price realised each year, and the average cost in the same year, as shown in the preceding tables. For example, the duty in the year 1892-93 may be taken as about R 829⅛ a chest.

Under a convention, which dates from 1815, the French Government has the right to purchase not more than 300 chests of opium each year, at the average price realised by the rest of the opium at the sales. This right has been commuted for a money payment which at present amounts to R5,000 a year, under an agreement which terminated on the 31st December 1893, and has been renewed for a further period of five years.

Excise opium is distributed from the factories, or from the Calcutta warehouse, to the Government treasuries, whence it is issued on payment to licensed vendors. For purposes of account, a sum of R7-4-0 per ser out of the proceeds of this opium is credited under the head of Opium as representing the cost price. The remainder of the proceeds is credited under Excise.

MALWA OPIUM.

Malwa opium is produced in the Baroda State, and in the following Native States in the Rajputana and Central India Agencies. It is not produced in British territory, except to a limited extent in the small tract of Ajmer-Merwara.

MALWA OPIUM—continued.

In these States the British Government has no concern whatever with the cultivation of the poppy or the manufacture of opium. Neither has it any concern with the export of the opium, except that it levies a duty on opium which passes into or through British territory, either for local consumption in British India or for export by sea to China and other countries beyond the continent of India. It is this duty, commonly called pass-duty, which constitutes the British revenue from Malwa opium.

Government is enabled to raise this revenue because the States in which the opium is produced have no access to the sea, except through British territory. The import of the opium into, or transport through, British territory is prohibited except under passes granted under the authority of the Opium Agents,* and on payment of the pass-duty.

* The Agent to the Governor-General, Central India, and the Commissioner of Ajmer-Merwara are ex-officio Opium Agents for their respective charges.

Passes are granted after weighment of the opium at scales maintained by the Opium Agents, the three principal scales being maintained at Indore in Central India, at Ajmer in Rajputana, and at Ahmadabad in the Bombay Presidency. The last was established provisionally in 1857 to meet the emergency arising from the disturbed state of the country at that time, and is now used for opium from Baroda and the small State of Dungarpur in Rajputana. There are also subsidiary scales at some other convenient places.

The poppy is sown in Malwa in November: the plants are in flower in the beginning of February, and by the end of March the whole of the opium is collected by the cultivators, and ready for sale. The village bankers and others who get possession of the raw opium, usually retain it until the end of April, and during May and June it is bought by the large dealers, who make it up into balls of about twelve ounces each, and expose it in storehouses to dry for the next two or three months, after which it is ready for the scales. It is usually ready for export by September; but as considerable dryage takes place during the transport of new opium to Bombay, it is commonly kept back till October. A chest of Malwa opium contains 140lbs. in weight, to which an allowance of 4oz. is added for leaf and dust, making a total of 140¼lbs. The opium is usually packed in half-chests for convenience of carriage.

The rates of pass-duty levied since 1862 on opium weighed for export by sea have been as follows:—

From		Per chest. Rs.
1st October 1862	...	600
16th July 1877	...	675 if weighed at Ajmer for export by sea from Bombay. 650 if weighed elsewhere " " "
15th September 1879	...	725 if weighed at Ajmer " " " 700 if weighed elsewhere " " "
28th June 1882	...	675 if weighed at Ajmer " " " 650 if weighed elsewhere " " "
5th July 1890	...	625 if weighed at Ajmer " " " 600 if weighed elsewhere " " "
11th Dec. 1894	...	675 if weighed at Ajmer " " " 650 if weighed elsewhere " " "

Opium which has been weighed and passed for export by sea from Bombay may, after arrival at Bombay, be diverted for local consumption on payment of a higher rate of pass-duty, as follows:—

		Rs.
When the pass for such opium was granted at Ajmer	...	725 per chest.
" " " elsewhere	...	700 "

When opium is weighed directly for local consumption and not for export by sea, the higher duty is charged at once. The reason why a higher rate of pass-duty is levied at Ajmer is that, as these scales are situated in British territory, the opium weighed there is not subject to the dues levied by the Native States.

The pass-duty on the opium weighed for export is paid by hundis, or bills, payable in Bombay. After weighment and delivery of the hundi, the opium is transported by railway to Bombay under cover of the pass, the cost of transit being borne by the owner. In Bombay it is received by the Commissioner of Customs and Opium, who is responsible for seeing that it corresponds with the covering pass, and who detains it until the hundi has been cashed. The opium is then warehoused, and is at the disposal of the owner for export or for local consumption, subject to the provisions of the Opium Act and the Bombay Opium Rules.

PANJAB.

The cultivation of the poppy is permitted (under license for each crop) throughout the Panjab, except in the districts of Delhi, Gurgaon, Rohtak, Hissar, the greater part of Karnal, and part of Ferozpur, where it has long been prohibited. The total area under poppy has usually been about 10,000 acres. There are, however, only five really opium-producing districts—Ambala, Simla, Kangra, Shahpur, and Dera Ghazi Khan. In the remaining districts in which the plant is grown, opium is either not extracted, or, if it is extracted, only a small quantity becomes available for sale by licensed vendors, the rest being surreptitiously disposed of; and the produce is consumed in the shape of a drink called post made from poppy-heads, either illicitly, or after passing through the hands of licensed vendors.

An acreage duty is levied on the cultivation of the poppy, at the rate of Rs. 2 per acre in the five chief opium producing districts, and in Gujrat, which adjoins Shahpur; and at the rate of Rs. 4 per acre in the rest of the province.

A cultivator is not permitted to consume any part of the produce of his crop himself. He is bound either (a) to dispose of it standing to a license-holder, who extracts the opium and sells it to a licensed wholesale or retail vendor or (b) to extract the opium himself and dispose of it, or of the produce, in the shape of poppy-heads, to a licensed retail or wholesale vendor.

III—concluded.

PUNJAB—concluded.

Opium produced in the hill States, in Kashmir, and in independent territory west of the Indus, is imported by wholesale vendors, and is subject to no import duty.

BARODA.

The cultivation of the poppy and the manufacture of opium are permitted in the Baroda State, under a State monopoly, for consumption in the State and for export to China. The State has undertaken to assimilate its opium retail system and selling prices to those for the time being in force in adjoining British districts, and to prevent the introduction of Baroda opium into British territory and into the territories of adjoining Native States.

AJMER-MERWARA.

In these two districts, which form a small tract of British territory in the midst of the Native States constituting the Rajputana Agency, the cultivation of the poppy and the manufacture and sale of opium are permitted without restriction, except in the three municipalities of Ajmer, Beawar, and Kekri, and the cantonment of Nasirabad. This course is rendered necessary in consequence of the impossibility of preventing smuggling from the surrounding country. The poppy is cultivated chiefly in Merwara, which is a narrow strip of hill country surrounded by opium-growing Native States. The population is much addicted to the use of opium, and any rule restricting its use would be habitually infringed.

In the three municipalities and in the cantonment of Nasirabad, a license is required for the cultivation of the poppy, or the manufacture or sale of opium.

BURMA.

Opium is produced in the Shan States beyond British limits, and in Upper Burma in the Kachin villages of the districts of Katha, Bhamo, and Upper Chindwin. On the drug produced in British territory an excise duty is levied at the rate of 8 annas for each quarter of a pé (one pé = 1·75 of an acre) or fraction thereof, cultivated with poppy. The importation of opium from the Shan States or from China by land into Upper Burma is permitted on payment of a duty of Rs. 15 per viss (or 3·65 lbs. avoirdupois). Neither of these classes of opium may be exported to Lower Burma. Shan or foreign travellers or horse-dealers may, however, import into any part of Burma for their personal use, without payment of duty, Shan or foreign opium in quantities not exceeding 5 tolas for each traveller or for ach horse or pony.

PAPER CURRENCY.

[TABLES 1 TO 11, PAGES 166 TO 183.]

Under Acts VI of 1839, III of 1840, and IX of 1843, the Banks of Bengal, Bombay and Madras were authorised to issue notes payable on demand. The issue of the notes was practically limited to the Presidency towns. These Acts were repealed, with effect from the 1st March 1862, by Act XIX of 1861, which was passed on the 16th July 1861, providing for the issue of a paper currency through a Government Department of Public Issue, either in connection with the Mints or otherwise, by means of notes of the Government of India payable to bearer on demand.

Act XIX of 1861.

This Act was superseded, first by Act III of 1871 and finally by Act XX of 1882, which, as amended by Act XV of 1890, and repealed in part and amended by Act VIII of 1893, is now in force. By the Act of 1882, the system of Paper Currency was extended to Burma, which province had not been included in the former arrangements.

Act XX of 1882.

By Act XV of 1890, the maximum limit of the amount of Currency Reserve to be invested in Government securities, as fixed under Section 19 of Act XX of 1882, was raised from sixty millions to eighty millions of rupees.

Act XV of 1890.

Act VIII of 1893 gave effect to the decision of the Government of India to close the Indian Mints to the unrestricted coinage of silver for the public and to issue currency notes in exchange for gold coin or bullion without any restriction as to the amount of the issues. Under this Act the following alterations were made in Act XX of 1882, with a view to stop the issue of currency notes in exchange for silver bullion and foreign silver coin, including silver coin made under the Portuguese Convention Act, 1881:—

Act VIII of 1893.

I.—Repeal of clauses (b) and (d) and of the proviso under Section 11, and omission of references in Section 12 to clause (b) Section 11.

II.—Repeal of Sections 14 and 15.

III.—Repeal of Sub-section (2), under Section 21.

The following further changes were also made in Act XX of 1882 to remove certain restrictions on the receipt of gold in exchange for currency notes :—

(1) Modification of Section 13 so as to allow under executive orders the unrestricted issue of currency notes, instead of, as heretofore, up to one-fourth of the total circulation of any Circle of Issue.

(2) Alteration in the proviso to Section 21 (1) authorising the exchange of coin or bullion in the currency reserve for gold as well as silver coins of the Government of India.

(3) Repeal of Section 28 (3) under which a previous notice of six months was required before gold could be received in exchange for currency notes.

In exercise of the powers conferred by Act XX of 1882 as amended above, the issue of currency notes in Calcutta and Bombay, for gold coin or gold bullion at the rate of one Government rupee for 1*s.* 4*d.* was authorised by Notification of the Government of India in the Finance Department, No. 2664, dated 26th June 1893.

Notification of 26th June 1893.

The Department of Paper Currency.—The function of this department is to issue, without any limits, notes of the Government of India payable to bearer on demand, commonly called currency notes, of the following denominations, namely, R5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 500, 1,000, and 10,000, the issue being made in exchange for silver coin from every Paper Currency office, and for gold bullion and gold coin from the head offices in Calcutta and Bombay, on the requisition of the Comptroller General.

The following is the arrangement of the circles and offices of issue of the notes, and the territories within which the notes of each circle or sub-circle are legal tender :—

Head Offices of Issue.	Subordinate Offices of Issue.	Officers in charge.	Circles or geographical limits within which notes are a legal tender.
Calcutta . . .	...	Head Commissioner of Paper Currency (Comptroller General).	All the territory under the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal and the Chief Commissioner of Assam.
	Allahabad . .	Deputy Commissioner of Paper Currency.	The territory under the Lieutenant-Governor, North-Western Provinces and Chief Commissioner of Oudh.
	Lahore . . .	Deputy Commissioner of Paper Currency.	The territory under the Lieutenant-Governor of the Panjab.
Madras . . .	...	Commissioner of Paper Currency (Accountant General, Madras).	All the districts in the Madras Presidency, not particularised under Calicut.
	Calicut . . .	Deputy Commissioner of Paper Currency.	The districts of Malabar, South Canara, Coimbatore, Nilgiri Hills and Coorg.
Bombay . . .	...	Commissioner of Paper Currency (Accountant General, Bombay).	All the districts of the Presidency of Bombay proper and the Central Provinces.
	Karachi . . .	Deputy Commissioner of Paper Currency.	The Province of Sind.
Rangoon . . .	...	Commissioner of Paper Currency (Comptroller, Burma).	All the territory under the Chief Commissioner of Burma (except the Shan States).

The Head Commissioner of Paper Currency is at the head of the Department.

Supply and Issue of Currency Notes.—Currency notes are supplied by the Secretary of State through the Bank of England to the several circles on an indent from the Head Commissioner. The Head Commissioner or Commissioners supply Deputy Commissioners and Currency Agents with such notes as they require for the purposes of the Paper Currency Act. Every such note bears upon it the name of the town from which it is issued and the impressed signature of the Head Commissioner or of a Commissioner.

The officers in charge of the several circles of issue are authorised to issue, from the office or offices established in their respective circles, currency notes in exchange for the amount thereof (1) in current silver coin of the Government of India or made under the Native Coinage Act, IX of 1876, and (2) on the requisition of the Comptroller General, from the head offices at Calcutta and Bombay in gold coin or gold bullion at the rate of one Government rupee for 7·53344 grains troy of fine gold.

Notes when legal tender and when payable.—Every note is a legal tender for the amount expressed in that note in its own circle (except by Government at the office of issue), that is to say, whenever a note forms the integral sum or a portion of any payment either to Government on account of revenue or other claim, or to any body corporate or person in British India, it is a legal tender. Notes of any circle can be tendered to any department of Government anywhere in payment of dues; and railway companies may receive notes of any circle in payment of fares and freight, recovering the value of them from Government.

Notes are payable only at the office or offices of issue of the town from which they have been issued. Notes of subordinate circles are also payable at the office of the Presidency circle to which those sub-offices are subordinate. Beyond this, the law imposes no obligation to pay; but, for the accommodation of the public, notes of other circles are cashed at any Paper Currency office to such extent as the convenience of each office will permit. In ordinary circumstances, every Government treasury, of which there are about 250 in British India, cashes or exchanges notes, if it can do so without inconvenience; and when this cannot be done conveniently for large sums, small sums can generally be exchanged for travellers.

Reserve.—The whole amount of the coin and bullion received for currency notes is retained and secured as a reserve for payment of the notes issued, with the exception of a fixed amount which is invested in Government securities. The maximum limit of the amount so invested was originally fixed, under Section 19 of Act XX of 1882, at sixty millions of rupees; the issues having largely expanded, the Government of India was empowered under Act XV of 1890 to raise the limit to eighty millions. In accordance with the Currency Act, which requires that increases to the actual investment made from time to time within the fixed maximum limit must be separately notified, the total investment was raised to seventy millions by Notification in the Finance and Commerce Department, No. 5900, dated the 19th December 1890, and to eighty millions by Notification No. 4861, dated the 3rd December 1891.

The interest accruing on the securities is entered in a separate account, and paid to the credit of the Government of India, under the head "Profits of note circulation." The expenditure of the Currency Department is entirely covered by these receipts, and there is in addition a considerable profit.

VIII.

MINT AND COINAGE.

[TABLES 1 TO 21, PAGES 184 TO 219.]

Gold.

The old standard for coinage in Bengal was 99¼ parts of pure gold and three-quarters of a part of alloy. This was altered by Regulation XIV of 1818 to eleven-twelfths of pure gold and one-twelfth of alloy; but the law having become inoperative, the old standard was reverted to for a time, until Act XVII of 1835 re-established the standard of eleven-twelfths fine, but declared that no gold coin should thenceforward be a legal tender of payment in India.

Act XXIII of 1870 permits the coinage by Government on the standard of 1835 of the under-mentioned gold coins only, namely:—

	Pure Gold. Grains.	Alloy. Grains.	Total Grains.
Double mohur or 30-rupee piece	330	30	360
Mohur or 15-rupee piece	165	15	180
Two-thirds of a mohur or a 10-rupee piece	110	10	120
One-third of a mohur or a 5-rupee piece	55	5	60

But since the issue of Notification No. 3764, dated the 12th December 1870, the coinage of double mohurs has been in abeyance, and tenderers of bullion have now the option of receiving payment only in 15, 10 or 5-rupee pieces of the weight and fineness shown above.

By Notification No. 3287, dated the 28th October 1868, sovereigns and half-sovereigns coined at any authorised Royal Mint in England or Australia, of current weight, were receivable in all Government treasuries in payment of sums due to Government as the equivalent of ten rupees and four annas, and of five rupees and two annas, respectively; and whenever available at any Government treasury, they were payable at the same rates to any person willing to receive them in payment of claims against the Government. The notification, which was a dead letter from the beginning, was superseded and cancelled by the notification mentioned in the following paragraph.

On the 26th June 1893, the Indian mints were closed to the unrestricted coinage of silver for the public in view to the eventual adoption of a gold standard for India. Pending the final adoption by legislation of a gold standard, it was prescribed by Notification No. 2662 of the same date that gold coins and bullion shall be received at the mints in exchange for Government rupees at the rate of 1*s.* 4*d.* the rupee; and by Notification No. 2663, also of the same date, that sovereigns and half-sovereigns of current weight coined at any authorised Royal Mint in England or Australia shall be received in all treasuries in British India in payment of sums due to Government at the rate of fifteen rupees for each sovereign and seven and a half rupees for each half-sovereign.

There is no limit prescribed by law for the loss in weight by wear and tear of gold coins to be received at their nominal value, but by Notification No. 2731, dated the 24th November 1869, the following rates of allowance are fixed as limits for their receipt at their nominal value in treasuries, namely:—for the mohur, sovereign and 10-rupee piece, ·774 grains; for the half-sovereign and 5-rupee piece, ·512 grains.

Silver.

On the 31st August 1835, the only rupees of legal tender in British India, within the local limits specified in the several regulations prescribing the coinage, were the sicca, Furruckabad, and Sonat rupees, and the Bombay and Madras rupees.

Act XVII of 1835, which took effect on 1st September 1835, directed the coinage of a Company's rupee weighing 180 grains, and of a standard of eleven-twelfths, or 165 grains, of pure silver, and one-twelfth, or 15 grains of alloy; and declared it equivalent to the Bombay, Madras, Furruckabad, and Sonat rupees, and to fifteen-sixteenths of the Calcutta sicca rupee.

Act XIII of 1836 discontinued the sicca rupee as legal tender in discharge of any debt, but permitted its receipt by collectors of land revenue and at all other public treasuries, by weight, subject to a charge of one per cent. for re-coinage.

By Notifications dated the 21st March and the 12th May 1838, the Madras, Bombay, and Furruckabad rupees, and generally the rupees issued from any mint of the British Government that were still a legal tender in any part of India, were declared to be receivable by the Calcutta mint for re-coinage, if of full weight, at their intrinsic par, namely, as equal to Company's rupees, without any charge of seignorage for re-coinage.

All rupees and half-rupees coined under Acts XVII of 1835, XIII of 1862, and XXIII of 1870, are legal tender in satisfaction of all engagements (unless clipped, filed, defaced, or diminished otherwise than by use) until by gradual wear they have lost more than two per cent. of their original weight. Coins which have lost more than two per cent. in weight are, when tendered at a treasury, received at the rate of one rupee a tola, and are not re-issued.

Act XXIII of 1870 repealed all former Acts, but made no change in the weight or fineness of the coin, and all coins made under the repealed Acts remained legal tender. Four-anna and two-anna pieces are legal tender for only fractions of a rupee. They are allowed to pass current so long as they have lost weight only by fair abrasion, but if they have lost weight from any other cause, they are treated as bullion.

The weight of the silver coins struck under Act XXIII of 1870 is the same as was prescribed by Act XVII of 1835, namely:—

	Pure Silver.	Alloy.	Weight.
	Grains.	Grains.	Grains.
Rupee	165	15	180
Half-rupee	82½	7½	90
Quarter rupee or 4-anna piece	41¼	3¾	45
Eighth of a rupee or 2-anna piece	20⅝	1⅞	22½

1 Rupee = 165 grains of pure silver.
1 Shilling = 80/7 grains of pure silver.
1 Rupee = shillings 2·0439.*

The expression "Government rupee" in supersession of "Company's rupee," was introduced by Act XIII of 1862, which rescinded further an inoperative clause of Act XVII of 1835 that had empowered the issue of a double rupee.

By Act IX of 1876 the Government mints may coin money for Native States, such coin being identical in weight and fineness with British Indian coin and legal tender in British India. Only two Native States (Alwar and Bikanir) have ceased minting for themselves and are supplied with coin minted for them under the Act by the Government of India.

By Notification No. 2466 of the 7th December 1877, all silver coins coined and issued under the authority of the Government of India before the 1st September 1835 were called in with effect from 1st June 1878. From that date such coins ceased to be legal tender and were thenceforth only receivable by weight at the treasuries of Government under Section 17 of the Coinage Act of 1870, at one rupee per tola.

The Monetary Convention (Act XVII of 1881) made between Great Britain and Portugal in pursuance of Article V of the treaty of commerce and extradition between Her Majesty and the King of Portugal ratified in January 1880, provided for the coinage in the Indian mints for the Portuguese possessions in India of a rupee

* Note.—For the 165 grains of pure silver in a rupee the equivalents are as follows, with the price of silver at varying rates:—

At 66 d. per standard ounce, one rupee	= 2·044 s.	At 34 d. per standard ounce, one rupee	= 1·053 s.
„ 60 d. „ „	= 1·858 s.	„ 33 d. „ „	= 1·022 s.
„ 50 d. „ „	= 1·548 s.	„ 32 d. „ „	= 0·991 s.
„ 40 d. „ „	= 1·239 s.	„ 31 d. „ „	= 0·960 s.
„ 38 d. „ „	= 1·177 s.	„ 30 d. „ „	= 0·929 s.
„ 37 d. „ „	= 1·146 s.	„ 29 d. „ „	= 0·898 s.

half-rupee, quarter-rupee, and eighth of a rupee. They were of the same standard weight and fineness as British Indian coins of the same denominations, and were legal tender throughout British India. British Indian coins were similarly legal tender throughout the Portuguese possessions in India. This Convention terminated on the 4th February 1892, and from that date the coins ceased to be legal tender. The attention of the public was drawn to this fact by Notification No. 2923A, dated the 8th July 1893.

As stated above, under the head "Gold," the Indian mints were closed to the unrestricted coinage of silver for the public from the 26th June 1893, and on that date Sections 19 to 26 of the Indian Coinage Act of 1870 providing for the coinage for the public of gold and silver bullion at the mints were repealed by Act VIII of 1893.

Copper.

The copper coinage was introduced into the Bengal Presidency by Act XVII of 1835, and into the Madras and Bombay Presidencies (with retrospective effect in the latter) by Act XXII of 1844.

The weight of the copper coins struck under Act XXIII of 1870 has not varied since 1835. It is as follows:—

	Grains Troy.
Double pice, or half-anna	200
Pice or quarter-anna	100
Half pice or one-eighth of an anna	50
Pie, being one-third of a pice or one-twelfth of an anna	33⅓

Ninety rupees' worth of pice weigh 576,000 grains troy, or 82⅜lb avoirdupois.

The two Native States of Alwar and Bikanir, which are supplied with silver coin under the Native Coinage Act, are also supplied with copper coin struck at the Indian mints. Two other States, Dhar and Dewas, have also ceased to mint copper and are supplied with copper coins struck at the Government mints. The following copper coins were also struck for Portuguese India under the Monetary Convention before mentioned:—Half tanga weighing 200 grs. troy and corresponding to the double pice or half-anna of British India, quarter tanga weighing 100 grs. troy and corresponding to the pice of British India, eighth of a tanga weighing 50 grs. troy and corresponding to the half pice of British India, and real or twelfth of a tanga, corresponding to the pie of British India. The value in copper of one Portuguese rupee is sixteen Portuguese tangas, sixty-four quarter tangas or pice, or one hundred and ninety-two reals or pies.

IX

POST OFFICE.

(Tables 1 to 17, Pages 219 to 253.)

Previous to the year 1837 there was no general system of postal service in India. The Government had instituted for its own purposes services for the conveyance of letters and parcels, and the use of this agency was conceded as a privilege to private persons. By Act XVII of 1837 a public post was established, and the right to convey letters for hire in the territories of the East India Company was created a monopoly and vested in the Government.

2. The organisation of the postal service was, however, at first very imperfect. The presidency postmasters as postmasters general, supervised a certain number of provincial offices and provided for the conveyance of mails on a few main lines, while the collectors of districts had charge of district offices and local lines. There was no central authority to secure the co-operation of the postal officials of the several provinces or to maintain uniformity of practice. There were no postage stamps, and the charge, levied in cash, for the carriage of a letter varied according to weight and the distance it was carried. From Calcutta to Bombay the charge was one rupee per tola; from Calcutta to Agra twelve annas. In 1850 a Commission was appointed to report on the working of the Post Office, and as a result Act XVII of 1837 was repealed and Act XVII of 1854 enacted in its stead. This Act, which marks the commencement of the organisation of the Post Office on its present footing, provided for the issue of postage stamps, and prescribed rates for the conveyance of letters irrespective of distance, power being conferred on the Government to reduce the rates. A Director General of the Post Office was appointed for the whole of India; the office of postmaster general was separated from that of presidency postmaster; postmasters general were appointed for the direct administration of the services of the larger provinces; and deputy postmasters general, at first designated chief inspectors, were appointed for the minor charges of the smaller provinces and the principal political agencies. A central office of account was established in Calcutta in 1861. The system of sorting letters in transit by railway was introduced in 1864, and the Sea Post Office for sorting European letters in transit from Suez to Bombay was established in 1868. The Act of 1854 was repealed by the Indian Post Office Act XIV of 1866 now in force.

3. The main business of the Post Office is the conveyance and delivery of letters, post-cards, newspapers, parcels and book-packets; and the total length of mail lines over which its work is carried on is 116,607 miles. Of this total railway and steamer services now extend over 32,295 miles, under arrangements with the several managers and agents, which secure correspondence of the trains and steamers with other mail lines and services, and allow of the maintenance of travelling post offices in the trains and steamers. The other 84,312 miles of mail lines are worked by country-boats, mail-carts of various kinds, horses, camels, and runners. The number of Post Offices is now 10,387, of letter-boxes 26,909, and of postmen and village postmen 16,333. The number of letters, newspapers, packets, and parcels given out for delivery has increased from 33¼ millions in 1855-56 to 370 millions in 1893-94.

4. Before 1854 the Post Office had undertaken the carriage of parcels at rates varying with weight and distance, and this system was continued by Act XVII of 1854 and Act XIV of 1866; but in 1870 rates were sanctioned varying only with weight and irrespective of distance. In 1873 arrangements were made for the carriage of parcels to and from England, and for their distribution and collection through the agency of the P. & O. Steam Navigation Company. In 1875 the Postal Union was established and British India became a member of the Union on the 1st July 1876. In 1875 parcel exchanges were arranged with the German Post Office, in 1876 with the Post Offices of Austro-Hungary and Ceylon, in 1877 with the Straits Settlements, in 1882 with China, and in 1885 with the Post Offices of Great Britain, Victoria, Cape Colony, West Indies, Gibraltar, and Malta. At the present date parcels are exchanged by post between India and almost every country in the world.

5. In 1877 the Post Office undertook to collect from the addressee the declared value of a parcel or registered article and to transmit the money to the sender. The extent to which the value-payable system is now used by traders and their customers is shown by the fact that in 1893-94—16 years after its introduction—the number of value-payable articles carried was 1,597,000 and the value declared for realisation was 176 lakhs of rupees.

6. Since 1878 the Indian Post Office has undertaken the insurance of letters and parcels entrusted to it for conveyance; until 1890 there was no limit to the amount for which an article could be insured, but in that year the limit of ₹1,000 was fixed. The insurance fee was at first fixed at ¼ per cent., but after about six months it was reduced to ⅛ per cent. The gross amount for which articles were insured by the Post Office for transit was, in 1893-94, over eight crores of rupees.

7. In 1862 the Government of India sanctioned the issue of money orders by Treasury Officers who drew upon other treasuries. In 1880 this business was transferred to the Post Office with the result that within a few months the number of orders issued was quadrupled. Improvements were also made in the system. A person desirous of transmitting money by money order now enters on a form his own name and address, the name and address of the payee, and the amount for which the order is to be drawn. The receiving office transmits the order to the place where the payment is to be made. The amount is tendered by a postman to the payee at his residence, and if he accepts it, his signature is taken on an acknowledgment which is returned by the Post Office to the sender. The number of inland money orders issued has increased from 1,604,000 of the aggregate value of 457 lakhs in 1880-81 to 8,754,000 of the aggregate value of 1,835 lakhs in 1893-94. Special arrangements have been made and special forms introduced so as to adapt the money order system to remittances of revenue, rent, and miscellaneous Government dues, and in several provinces the system is largely used for these purposes. With regard to Foreign money orders, the Post Office has arranged for their exchange with the principal countries of the world. Since 1884 British Postal Orders, of values ranging from 1*s.* to £1, have been sold at Indian Post Offices; and for the benefit of British troops arrangements have been made for their sale by regimental vendors.

8. In 1870 Government Savings Banks were established in connection with District Treasuries. In 1882 sanction was accorded for the opening of savings banks at post offices, and for 3 years the old and new banks worked side by side. During this period, however, the popularity of the Post Office savings banks became so manifest that the closure of the Treasury savings banks was ordered. In 1882-83 the number of depositors in postal savings banks was 39,121 and the amount at their credit ₹27,96,000. By the end of 1893-94 the number of depositors had increased to 574,050 and the amount at their credit to ₹5,26,57,000. Since 1882 the Post Office has also undertaken the purchase and sale of Government Promissory Notes and the transfer of Government securities to the Comptroller General for custody on behalf of the purchaser. Down to 1886 this work was undertaken for any member of the public, but since that date the privilege has been limited to bonâ fide depositors in the savings bank.

9. In 1883 a large number of post offices were constituted receiving offices for the transmission of inland telegrams by post to the nearest telegraph office; and at the same time telegraph work was also undertaken by the Post Office in a certain number of offices. The number of telegraph offices has thus been largely increased, and out of 1,224 state (non-railway) telegraph offices on 31st March 1894, 979 were postal telegraph offices. In 1893-94 the number of messages transmitted by receiving offices was 36,350, and the number of messages signalled by postal telegraph offices was 1,30 3,59 0 excluding 66,374 free messages.

10. When the Post Office was first established its agency was largely utilised for the management of staging bungalows, the carriage of goods by bullock train, and the conveyance of passengers by palankeen, mail-cart, or parcel van. The extension of the railway system has to a great extent removed the need of these services; and since 1863-64 the Post Office has gradually withdrawn from the management of this class of business, and so far as passenger and goods services are concerned, it now maintains and manages only a single carriage and bullock train service—the one between Kalka and Simla. A very large number of carriage and cart lines are, however, subsidised by the Post Office for mail purposes.

11. The agency of the Post Office is used throughout India for the sale of receipt stamps; and in several provinces for the sale of court-fee stamps, non-judicial stamps, and closed packets of quinine manufactured at the Government quinine factories and prepared in packets under Government superintendence.

12. In 1884, with the view of encouraging providence among postal officers, sanction was given to a scheme of life insurance, whereby an officer of the postal service is enabled to obtain a policy for a sum not exceeding ₹4,000 on the security of Government. In 1888 the scheme was extended to the Telegraph Department. By the end of 1893-94 2,023 lives had been insured for the aggregate amount of ₹28,23,325, and the active policies outstanding were 1,731, of which 1,401 were held by Post Office servants and 330 by servants of the Telegraph Department.

13. In 1890 the Post Office undertook the payment of military pensioners in the Panjab at the post offices nearest their homes. The number of pensioners thus paid in 1893-94 was 22,271, and the aggregate amount paid to them ₹15,75,526.

14. From 1854 to 1869 the lowest rate of postage on an inland letter was half an anna for a weight not exceeding a quarter of a tola. The limit of weight was doubled from the 1st April 1869, and from that date the rate has been half an anna for a weight not exceeding half a tola. In 1873 a further reduction of postage was made by the sale of embossed envelopes at the face value of the stamp without any charge for the envelopes themselves. These envelopes were at first of two kinds bearing stamps of half an anna and anna; but as the demand for one-anna envelopes was small, it was abolished in 1886. In 1877 the extra charge on redirection, which was the same as the original postage, was abolished. The introduction of the inland post-card in 1879 gave a lower rate of postage than even that given by the rate of ½ anna per ½ tola with an envelope supplied without charge. The Indian inland post-card has from its introduction been priced at one pice (3 pies) per single card and ½ anna per reply card, the price in each case covering the cost of the card as well as postage.

The minimum postage on newspapers was originally one anna for 6 tolas of weight. This rate was lowered in 1866 to one anna per 10 tolas, and in 1872 to the present rate of half an anna per 10 tolas. Additional privileges are also given to newspapers for which the postage for three months is prepaid in cash: if the weight of the newspaper does not exceed 3 tolas, postage is charged at 3 pies per copy, and in all cases copies packed in bundles and sent to agents for sale are charged half the postage of single copies, and copies sent in exchange for other newspapers are carried free.

The postage on packets other than newspapers was one anna for 10 tolas until 1877, when the rate was reduced to one anna for 10 tolas for book packets and two annas for every 40 tolas for book packets and patterns. In 1878 the packet rate was lowered to half an anna per 10 tolas.

Previous to 1870 postage on parcels was charged according to distance, but in that year a uniform rate was fixed of three annas per 10 tolas. In 1873 the minimum charge was fixed at four annas for 20 tolas, but four years later it was raised to eight annas for 40 tolas. The present rates of parcel postage were fixed in 1880, and are four annas for 20 tolas, eight annas for any weight exceeding 20 and up to 40 tolas, and four annas for each additional rate of 40 tolas or part thereof.

The fee for registration, originally four annas, was reduced to two annas in 1879 for book and pattern packets, and in 1881 for all other classes of postal articles.

Under the system in force down to 1866 official correspondence was carried free under an official frank, and the departments concerned were debited with the postage due at the ordinary rates. This system was abolished in 1873 by the general adoption of service stamps for official correspondence, and at the same time the rates were reduced to half an anna for half a tola, one anna for 10 tolas, five annas for 20 tolas, and five annas for every additional 10 tolas. In 1877 and 1878 the rates for official correspondence were still further reduced, and now stand as follows:—letters not exceeding half a tola—half an anna; above half a tola to 10 tolas—one anna; and one anna for each additional 10 tolas up to 40 tolas: letters above 40 tolas in weight are charged one anna per tola. The rates for packets and parcels are the ordinary rates for those articles.

Before 1892, the rates of postage on letters, post-cards, and packets for foreign countries varied with the cost of transit and other considerations; but in that year the elementary union rates of postage were adopted by India for correspondence for all parts of the world, whether within or outside the Postal Union. Those rates are—for letters, 2½ annas per ½ oz.; for post-cards, 1 anna; for printed papers, ½ anna per 2 oz.; for business papers wholly or partly in manuscript, ½ anna per 2 oz., subject to a minimum charge of 2½ annas; for samples, ½ anna per 2 oz., subject to a minimum charge of 1 anna.

The first steps towards the establishment of lines of electric telegraph in India were taken in the year 1839. In May of that year, Dr. W. B. O'Shaughnessy, an Assistant Surgeon and Professor of Chemistry in the Medical College at Calcutta, instituted a series of experiments in communicating signals by means of electricity. These experiments were carried out on a somewhat large scale in the Botanical Gardens, Calcutta, and the results obtained fully convinced their author of the practicability of the electric telegraph. His researches and reports were published in the Journal of the Asiatic Society for Bengal for September 1839. In his earlier endeavours to obtain the sanction of the Court of Directors of the East India Company to the construction of an experimental line of telegraph, Dr. O'Shaughnessy met with disappointment. He persevered, however, devoting the next ten years to further experiments, on which he submitted several reports.

2. In 1851 he succeeded in obtaining sanction to construct experimental lines along the Hooghly from Calcutta to Diamond Harbour, with a branch from Bishtopore to Moyapore, and an extension from Kookrahutty, on the further side of the Hooghly, to Kedgeree, making, with some short additional sections, a total of 82 miles. In the same year four offices—Calcutta, Moyapore, Bishtopore, and Diamond Harbour—were opened for business, principally connected with the shipping, and two others, Kookrahutty and Kedgeree, were added in February 1852. The lines were partly overhead and partly underground. The receiving instrument was a small galvanoscope, designed by Dr. O'Shaughnessy and made in India, and this pattern continued in use until early in 1857, when the Morse instruments were imported from England.

3. A report on the working of these lines, submitted in 1852, led to the matter being strongly taken up by Lord Dalhousie, who succeeded in obtaining from the Court of Directors permission to immediately construct lines from Calcutta to Agra, from Agra to Bombay, from Agra to Peshawar, from Bombay to Madras.

These lines extended over 3,050 miles and included 41 offices. They were opened for paid message traffic from 1st February 1855.

4. By the year 1857 the lines had been further extended, bringing Mysore, Ootacamund, and Calicut into the system, which then comprised over 4,555 miles of wire and 62 offices open to the public.

5. Although during the Indian mutiny the lines in the North-Western Provinces and in parts of Central India were considerably damaged by the mutineers (some 760 miles being entirely demolished), the Telegraph Department was able to render signal service in connection with stamping out the rebellion; and the fact that nearly 2,000 miles of lines were constructed during the following year, in addition to the reconstruction of the lines which were destroyed, shows that the political value of the telegraph was appreciated.

6. With the single exception of the year 1861-62, the Department has from this time steadily expanded year by year as shown by the tables. The following developments of the operations of the Department in recent years may be specially recorded.

7. In 1873 the Department was entrusted by Government with the duty of supplying, at fixed rates of rental, to the State railways then beginning to spread over the country, wires, instruments and the technical supervision of their telegraph offices. The same duties are undertaken for the telegraph systems required in connection with the canal systems of India. Wires are also provided on similar terms for all new guaranteed or private railways, the supply of instruments and the supervision of their offices being optional with these undertakings. On the 31st March 1894, 43,809 miles of wire were maintained for railways and canals, and 1,834 railway and canal offices were technically supervised by the Department.

8. In 1883 an arrangement was entered into between the Postal and Telegraph Departments, under which the latter Department constructed short branch telegraph lines to selected outlying post offices and fitted up instruments in them, the Postal Department undertaking the working of these small telegraph offices thus opened under the technical supervision of the Telegraph Department, charging the Telegraph Department the actual extra cost to them of doing the telegraph work. The Telegraph Department on its side maintains and repairs the branch lines and supplies all the requirements of the offices, being credited with the revenue earned. This system has had the happiest results, and has enabled the benefits of the telegraph to be extended to places of comparatively small importance at a trifling cost to the State. On the 31st March 1894, the total number of offices worked by the Postal Department on behalf of the Telegraph Department amounted to 979.

9. The Telegraph Department has also been entrusted with the supply of military telegraph and telephone systems, both for the army in the field in all military expeditions, and for use in connection with the fortifications and defences of the country. It trains annually a large number of British soldiers in telegraphy, and employs a proportion of those trained in many of its offices, thus maintaining a reserve of trained military telegraphists for the service of the State in time of war.

10. The Department also supplies private lines, either telegraph or telephone, to the various departments of Government, to municipalities, and to other local bodies, and also to private customers in places where the wants of the latter cannot be met by the private telephone companies that have been licensed to carry on business at certai large cities in India.

12. Tariff between India and the United Kingdom.—Through communication from India to Europe vid Karachi and the Persian Gulf was first established on the 27th January 1865, and the cable route from Bombay vid Aden and Suez was opened in the spring of 1870. The original tariff was £5 or ₹50 for messages of 20 words between India and the United Kingdom, which was reduced at the Vienna International Telegraph Conference of 1868 to £2-17*s.*-6*d.* or ₹28-8 for 20 words. In 1871, this tariff having been found insufficient was raised at a special conference at Berne to £4-10 or ₹45 for 20 words, and at the St. Petersburgh conference of 1875 a word-rate was established, which was fixed at Francs 5·50 vid Suez or vid Teheran, and Francs 5 vid Turkey. At the Berlin conference of 1885 the above rates were reduced to Francs 5 and 4·50 respectively, at which they now stand. The charge to the continent of Europe generally is the same as to the United Kingdom.

13. Payment of Telegrams.—All telegrams, both on the service of the State or for private individuals, are paid for, except those relating to the Telegraph Department. Except in the case of certain offices of the Government, or during military operations, all State telegrams are prepaid in cash or stamps, and in the exceptional cases, the payment is adjusted subsequently in account by debit against the Department concerned. Private telegrams are always prepaid, except in some special cases, when recovery of the charge is made from the addressee.

14. Method of Payment.—Telegrams booked at offices of the Department are stamped to the requisite amount with telegraph stamps, the upper halves of which are returned to the sender attached to his receipt, while the lower halves are attached to the telegram. Both halves are cancelled before separation. Telegrams tendered at post offices may be prepaid either in telegraph or postage stamps. In the latter case, the receipt does not bear any portion of the stamps, the charge made being recorded on it over the signature of the post master. Certain post offices also, which are not telegraph offices, are empowered to receive telegrams and to grant receipts for the same. Such telegrams are transmitted free by post to the nearest telegraph office for despatch. Telegrams posted by the sender at places where there is no telegraph, for transmission by post to the nearest telegraph office, may be paid for either in telegraph or postage stamps. In such cases the receipt is posted to the sender.

TELEGRAPH—concluded.

15. Prior to 1869 the payment of telegrams in stamps was limited to the cases of telegrams that had to be sent to a telegraph office by post or from a distance. The first stamps used for this purpose, in 1855, were ordinary embossed court-fee stamps, and the telegram itself was written on the embossed paper. In 1859 stamps of the denominations of R4, R1, and 4 annas were obtained to supersede the use of court-fee paper, and in 1869 double headed stamps were introduced for the payment of all telegrams, in denominations varying from R50 to one anna. The pattern of these stamps was changed in 1889, the upper half in the new stamps not bearing the portrait of Her Majesty, but the method of use remained unchanged.

16. Constitution.—The control of the Telegraph Department was vested from its commencement up to the 30th September 1867 in the Home Department of the Government of India. From the 1st October 1867 to the 30th April 1870, the work was transferred to the Foreign Department of the Government of India as a matter of administrative convenience, and on the 1st May 1870 it was finally transferred to the Public Works Department. The constitution of the Department is at present as follows in the superior establishment:—

1	Director General	Class I
1	Deputy Director General	„ II
2	Directors	„ III
4	Chief Superintendents	„ IV
10	Superintendents	„ V
13	„ 2nd grade	„ V
11	Assistant Superintendents	„ VI
12	„ „ 2nd grade	„ VI
13	„ „	„ VII
	The remainder Assistant Superintendents, 2nd grade	„ VII

The upper subordinate establishment consists of two grades of sub-assistant superintendents, each at present containing 41 men. The signalling establishment consists of about 1,670 telegraph masters and signallers, and the lower subordinate establishment of about 1,154 sub-inspectors, line riders, and linemen. The numbers in these two latter establishments vary with the requirements of the service. In addition to the signalling establishment proper of the Department, 318 military signallers and 1,222 postal clerks were wholly or partially employed on signalling duty on the 31st March 1894.

17. Telegraph Acts.—The first Telegraph Act for India was Act No. XXXIV of 1854. The Acts which have since been passed, each in turn repealing its predecessor, are—

Act No. VIII of 1860.
Act No. I of 1876.
Act No. XIII of 1885.

These Acts, which have been framed to meet the development of tele graphy in India, deal with the privilege and powers of Government in respect to telegraphs, their authority to grant licenses for the establishment of telegraphs, and the regulations under which telegraphs are to be worked. They also provide and regulate the powers of the Telegraph Department to place telegraph lines and posts on public and private lands, and declare the penalties for infringements of licenses, and for all other offences connected with telegraph lines, and with the transmission of telegrams. Under the provisions of the Telegraph Act, rules and regulations for the acceptance, transmission, and custody of telegrams are published from time to time in the Gazette of India by the Governor General in Council.

XIII.

RAILWAYS.

[TABLES 1 TO 9, PAGES 290 TO 315.]

At the end of 1893-94 there were 13,804¼ miles of State railways open for public traffic and 1,573½ miles in progress; of Guaranteed and Assisted lines, there were 2,990 miles open for traffic and 20¾ miles in progress; in Native States there were 1,647 miles open for traffic and 328½ miles in progress; and in Foreign States (French and Portuguese India) there were 58¾ miles open for traffic. The total mileage of all railways was—

18,500¾ miles open.

1,922½ miles in progress.

The rate of progress in the last twenty-one years in opening out railway communications will be apparent from the following figures:—

1873-74 to 1877-78	6,522	miles open.
1878-79 „ 1882-83	9,188	„
1883-84 „ 1887-88	12,604½	„
1888-89 „ 1892-93	16,792½	„
1893-94	18,500¾	„

The number of miles open in 1873 was 5,697½; in 1893-94 it was 18,441¾, excluding in each case 59 miles in French and Portuguese India, as there are no traffic returns for them. The increase of mileage was 224 per cent, the average annual rate of increase being nearly 11 per cent, and the actual increase in mileage about 610 miles a year.

The gross earnings (from coaching and goods traffic) have increased from Rx. 6,999,445 in 1873 to Rx. 23,363,422 in 1893, the increase being at the rate of 233·8 per cent, or an annual average of about 11·13 per cent. The mileage having increased 224 per cent, and the gross earnings 233·8 per cent, the actual increase of traffic has been 9·8 per cent, in twenty-one years. The earnings were smaller in 1892 than in 1891, which year was quite exceptional in the magnitude of its traffic.

The total earnings in 1893 were Rx. 24,024,359, and their total expenses Rx. 11,305,881, which made 47·1 per cent of the receipts, leaving a net profit of Rx. 12,718,478. Of this Rx. 3,613,190 were contributed by the East Indian Railway; the net profits of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway were Rx. 1,801,929; of the North-Western Railway Rx. 979,764; of the Bombay-Baroda line Rx. 957,804; and of the Rajputana-Malwa Rx. 1,328,910. These five lines, with a total of 7,462 miles, being about 40·3 per cent of the whole open mileage, brought in about 65 per cent of the aggregate receipts.

The gross earnings from coaching and goods traffic per mile of the lines amounted in 1890 to ₹11,803 in 1891 to ₹13,283, in 1892 to ₹12,465, and in 1893 to ₹12,669. The earnings per mile of each of the principal lines in the last five years were as follows:—

EMIGRATION.

[TABLES 1 TO 5, PAGES 366 TO 368.]

The figures in these tables relate solely to emigration as carried on under the Emigration Laws, and take no account of the numbers who leave India as passengers in vessels, not having been recruited by emigration agencies for service in the Colonies; nor do they take account of pilgrims, of whom small but uncertain numbers settle out of India.

The number of emigrants from India during the ten years, 1884-85 to 1893-94, amounted to 135,345, making an annual average of 13,534 persons. It cannot be said that many, even of this insignificant number, quit the country with the intention of permanently establishing their domicile elsewhere, most of them in fact leaving with the hope of returning with their savings to their homes in a few years. The number of persons who returned during the last ten years amounted to 73,615, an average of 7,361 yearly, or somewhat more than one-half of the number who left India. The mortality amongst emigrants is high in some of the Colonies to which they go, and of those who survive a substantial proportion elect to continue to work in the Colony after their term of indenture expires, and many of these never return to India. In Mauritius, for instance, two-thirds of the population are Indian settlers, and in Trinidad too the settled Indians are increasing in numbers.

There are five places in India from which emigration may legally be carried on—Calcutta, Bombay, Madras, and the two French settlements of Pondichery and Karikal. From Bombay emigration was stopped many years ago, and, though the legal restriction has been removed, recruiting has never been resumed, labour in the Western Presidency being, on the whole, so well paid that there is but little inducement to emigrate to the coolie-employing Colonies. From the French settlements there has been no emigration since 1884 except in one year, 1888-89. The port of Calcutta is the most convenient for the shipment of emigrants drawn from the impoverished masses of the thickly-populated provinces of Oudh and Bihár, and the main stream of emigration flows down the Hooghly. Of the 13,735 persons who emigrated from India in 1893-94, as many as 11,777 were shipped from Calcutta, almost all of them from the North-Western Provinces, Oudh, and Bihár. From Madras 1,958 were shipped.

The destinations of the emigrants in the last five years were as follows:—

	1889-90.	1890-91.	1891-92.	1892-93.	1893-94.
To Mauritius	4,544	3,039	989	...	485

„ Jamaica	...	1,087	1,060	...	486
„ St. Lucia	...	556	...	...	157
TOTAL	16,874	20,085	16,597	12,318	13,735

From Calcutta the bulk of the emigrants sailed to British and Dutch Guiana and Trinidad, much the largest number (5,883) going to Demerara. Less than a sixth of the whole number went to Natal and Fiji. The comparatively small number who sailed from Madras went to Natal. There is a considerable flow of native labourers to Ceylon and the Straits, but this traffic is not conducted under the provisions of the Emigration Act.

XX.

NATIVE PASSENGER SHIPS.

[TABLES 1 TO 3, PAGES 369 TO 372.]

The total number of persons who sailed from Indian ports in native passenger ships, that is, sailed as passengers, being neither emigrants to the Colonies nor pilgrims to the holy places in Arabia, was—

In 1888-89	1,001,892
„ 1889-90	1,081,403
„ 1890-91	1,185,709
„ 1891-92	1,295,992
„ 1892-93	979,341
„ 1893-94	1,009,061

The great bulk of these voyaged only within Indian limits, not more than 68,802 leaving India in the past year.

Of those who left India, more than two-thirds went from the Madras Presidency to the Straits Settlements (15,205) and to Ceylon (32,830), most of the remainder going from Bombay and Karachi to the Persian Gulf (10,657), Mauritius, Aden, and Zanzibar, and from Burma to the Straits Settlements (3,608).

The large number (940,249) who voyaged within Indian limits confined their migrations in the main to ports within their own presidency, only 231,868 out of the whole number leaving their own presidency or province to seek for work in other provinces. These migrations from province to province are practically limited to voyages undertaken by coolies from Madras and Bengal to Burma and to the return voyages of coolies from Burma to their own provinces.

XXI.

COTTON MILLS.

[TABLES 1 AND 2, PAGES 374 TO 379.]

There were at work in India, at the end of 1893-94, 136 cotton mills, containing 29,362 looms and 3,538,577 spindles. They employed a daily average number of 130,570 persons, of whom, as far as details have been obtained, there were 78,837 men, 25,406 women, 14,647 young persons, and 9,105 children. The nominal capital of the mills, worked by joint stock and private proprietary, is returned at 118 million rupees; but there is no return of the capital of eight mills worked by private proprietary, and probably the whole capital invested in this industry may be taken to be from 125 to 130 million rupees.

Of the 136 mills, there are 94 in the Bombay Presidency, of which 65 are in the town and Island of Bombay. There are eight mills in Bengal, all in the vicinity of Calcutta; eleven in Madras, of which four are in the town of Madras; five in the North-Western Provinces, all but one at Cawnpore; two in the Panjab (at Delhi); one at Indore; five in the Central Provinces; one in Ajmere-Merwara; three in Hyderabad (Nizam's Territory); one in Berar; two in Mysore; two in the French Settlement of Pondicherry; and one in Travancore. The six new mills which commenced work during the year are all located in the Bombay Presidency, which possesses 69 per cent. of the whole number of mills in India. That Presidency contains 70 per cent. of the spindles and 78 per cent. of the looms in the country. Nine of the mills are situated in Native States and in French-Indian territory.

The consumption of cotton by the Indian mills in the year is estimated to have exceeded 4¼ million cwt.

The following figures exhibit the progress made in the construction and extension of mills in the last sixteen years:—

	1878-79.	1889-90.	1890-91.	1891-92.	1892-93.	1893-94.
Number of mills	58	114	125	127	130	136
„ looms	12,983	22,078	23,845	24,670	26,317	29,362
„ spindles	1,436,464	2,934,637	3,197,740	3,268,524	3,378,303	3,538,577
„ persons employed	... *	99,224	111,998	117,922	120,898	130,570

The industry dates from 1851, when the first mill was started.

* Not stated.

XXII.

JUTE AND HEMP MILLS.

[TABLES 1 AND 2, PAGES 380 AND 381.]

There were 27 mills working jute, and one mill working hemp, at the end of 1893-94, and employing a daily average number of 69,179 persons, namely, 45,311 men, 14,297 women, 3,426 young persons, and 6,445 children. The mills contained 9,590 looms and 192,688 spindles. The nominal capital of the mills, worked by joint stock companies, is stated in the returns at a little under 34¾ million rupees; but the figures are not complete, for some of the mills no returns of capital having been furnished. Probably about 2½ or 3 million rupees may be added to the total on account of these.

All but two of the mills are in Bengal, most of them in the vicinity of Calcutta. Of the two not in Bengal, one (a small one) is at Vizagapatam (this being the mill which works hemp) and the other at Cawnpore.

The progress of the industry, during the last fifteen years, is shewn below:—

	1879-80.	1888-89.	1890-91.	1891-92.	1892-93.	1893-94.
Number of mills	22	26	27	27	27	28

XXIII.

WOOLLEN MILLS.

[TABLES 1 AND 2, PAGE 382.]

There were five woollen mills at work at the close of 1893—one at Cawnpore, one at Bangalore, one at Dhariwal in the Panjab, and two in the city of Bombay. The number of looms and spindles in 1893 was 526 and 17,320. The fabrics made at present consist mainly of blankets, great-coats for the police and native soldiery, and materials for servants' clothing. Serges and other cloths and hosiery are also made of excellent quality in the Cawnpore and Dhariwal mills, but the manufacture of superior goods is as yet comparatively limited.

XXIV.

PAPER MILLS.

[TABLES 1 AND 2, PAGE 383.]

There are nine paper mills—four in the Bombay Presidency, three in Bengal, one at Lucknow, and one at Gwalior. Another is under construction in Bengal. Of the nine, three are private concerns in the Bombay presidency, one of which has not been at work for many years. The others have an aggregate nominal capital of Rx. 492,200. The fibrous materials used for making paper are chiefly rags, babui and moonj grasses, straw, jute and hemp cuttings, and old jute bags and cloth. The quality of the papers made has much improved in recent years, and they have a large and increasing sale. Most of the white and blue foolscap and much of the blotting paper, note paper, and envelopes, used in the Government offices, is now obtained from the Indian mills. The total quantity of paper made in 1893 was about 29½ million lbs. The number of persons employed is 3,157.

There are a number of small paper works, for the manufacture of what is known as country paper, scattered through most provinces, but of these petty industries no statistical information is available.

XXV.

BREWERIES.

[TABLES 1 TO 3, PAGE 384.]

The quantity of beer brewed during 1893 amounted to 5,532,725 gallons, of which over three million gallons were bought by the Army Commissariat; less than 2½ millions being left for consumption by the civil population. The average purchases of the Commissariat for the last five years (1889-93) have amounted to about three million gallons yearly. The Government does not now import beer for the consumption of the British soldier. All the beer supplied by Government to the troops in Northern India is Indian beer bought under contract with the Indian brewers. In all other parts of India where no contract is now in existence, the regiments have, since 1891, arranged for their own supplies independently of Government.

The quantity of beer imported into India (otherwise than by Government) has averaged 2,879,609 gallons yearly in the last five years; and the quantity brewed in India in the same period has averaged 5,094,791 gallons.

Thirteen out of the 21 breweries are located in the Himalayan range north of the North-Western Provinces and the Panjab, and much of the beer is brewed there. A good deal is also brewed at Darjeeling, Poona, and Bangalore, in the Nilgiris, and at Quetta and Mandalay.

The capital employed in the brewing industry (so far as it is known) is Rx. 170,000.

XXVI.

COLLIERIES.

[TABLES 1 TO 3, PAGES 385 AND 386.]

In 1893 there were 82 collieries at work in Bengal, one in Madras, two in the Panjab, two in the Central Provinces, four in Assam, one in Burma, one in Central India, one in the Nizam's Territory, and two in Baluchistan, making 96 in all, against 88 in the preceding year, and 87 in 1891. In the output of the mines there was, however, a slight decline. The output from the Bengal mines was reported as 1,870,720 tons; 135,118 tons were raised from the Central Provinces collieries (Mohpani and Warora); 164,420 tons from the Assam collieries; 94,348 tons from Umeria (Central India); 77,294 tons from the Dandot and Bhaganwála collieries in the Panjab; 157,421 tons from the Singareni colliery in the Nizam's Territory; 20,094 tons from the Khost and Sharigh mines in Baluchistan; 9,938 tons from the Letkakpin mine in the Shwebo district in Burma; and 502 tons from the Goripili mine in the Godávari district in the Madras Presidency. The annual output in all India has been as follows in the last ten years:—

	Tons.		Tons.
1884	1,397,818	1889	1,946,172
1885	1,294,221	1890	2,168,521
1886	1,388,487	1891	2,328,577
1887	1,564,063	1892	2,537,696
1888	1,708,903	1893	2,529,855

The value of the output in 1893, calculated at the local wholesale selling prices, may be estimated at Rx. 860,786, making an average value of R3·4 per ton, against about Rx. 836,000 (R3·29 per ton) in the preceding year.

COLLIERIES—continued.

The imports of coal, coke, and patent fuel in 1893-94 amounted to 555,280 tons, valued at Rx. 972,888, the average value being R17·52 per ton, more than five times the value of Indian coal. In the preceding year the imports were 648,185 tons, valued at Rx. 1,141,450 (R17·61 per ton).

Three-fourths of the Indian coal are produced in Bengal, and that province receives but little imported coal, Bombay and Sindh taking most of the imports. The distribution of the imports was as follows in tons:—

	1889-90.	1890-91.	1891-92.	1892-93.	1893-94.
Bombay and Sindh	468,034	687,200	621,030	541,160	461,912
Burma	47,800	36,599	48,085	27,814	19,450
Madras	62,666	50,818	45,044	66,380	65,805
Bengal	23,170	10,047	22,812	12,831	8,113

The cost of transport has been so high in India that until recently it was not profitable to send Bengal coal to the other provinces. During the last three years, however, there has been a somewhat rapid change in the conditions, and a substantial quantity is being supplied from Bengal by sea to the other provinces, as the subjoined figures shew:—

Exports (in tons) by sea from Bengal to—

	Bombay.	Sindh.	Madras.	Burma.
1889-90	2,008	...	2,768	47,687
1890-91	4,000	...	29,763	69,908
1891-92	....	...	52,270	70,145
1892-93	45,595	...	60,570	88,611
1893-94	81,739	3,700	57,996	98,884

The total exports from Bengal to other provinces by sea in 1893-94 amounted to 242,319 tons. Bengal is also exporting increasing quantities by railway to other provinces, the exports being:—

	Tons.
1889-90	246,431
1890-91	238,171
1891-92	332,368
1892-93	355,946
1893-94	368,590

Thus the exports from Bengal represent more than one-third of the production in that province.

Burma now consumes more than five tons of Indian coal for every ton of imported coal, and Madras burns nearly as much Indian as imported coal, but Western India still finds it more advantageous to use imported coal. Indian coal is also being exported, though as yet on a small scale, to Ceylon, Java, and the Straits, whither 25,058 tons of coal and coke were shipped in 1890-91, 3,251 tons in 1891-92, 13,487 tons in 1892-93, and 42,937 tons last year.

The Indian railways consume it in large and increasing quantities, the consumption in 1893 being over 36 per cent. of the whole output. The imported coal burnt on the railway lines is gradually diminishing:—

	1891. Tons.	1892. Tons.	1893. Tons.
Indian coal and coke	797,142	875,640	924,900
Imported coal	216,822	204,367	178,656

The total number of persons employed at the mines is given as 37,679.

XXVII.

LARGE INDUSTRIES NOT SEPARATELY TREATED.

TABLES 1 AND 2 PAGES 387 TO 418.

The table of details gives such particulars as are obtainable of most of the industries, carried on upon an extensive scale, other than those for which separate tables have been given. It still lacks completeness even as regards large industries which ought to find a place in the list, and it does not and cannot include the many industries which, though in the aggregate extensive enough, are practised on a small scale by men in their own houses or in small workshops.

Taking the headings in alphabetical order, the table includes:—

(1) Bone-crushing mills.—Six at Bombay, two in Bengal near Calcutta, two in Malabar, two at Coimbatore, one at South Canara, two at Karachi, and one at Rangoon.

(2) Cement works.—Only one cement work is reported, located in Madras.

(3) Coffee works.—These are reported to be 22 in number, all in Madras.

(4) Cotton ginning, cleaning, and pressing mills.—There is a great number of these in Madras, Bombay, Sindh, Berar, the Central Provinces, Central India and Rajputana, the North-Western Provinces, Panjab, Bengal and Burma.

XXVII—continued.

LARGE INDUSTRIES NOT SEPARATELY TREATED—continued.

(5) Cotton spinning and weaving establishments not classed as mills.—Eleven mentioned, of which nine are in the Madras Presidency, two in Upper Burma, and several unenumerated in Bengal.

(6) Cutch factories.—Two in Lower Burma and fifteen in Upper Burma. One also in Bengal.

(7) Flour mills.—There are 150 of these, but the return is defective.

(8) Glass factory.—One has been recently started near Calcutta for the manufacture of glass in accordance with European methods. There are various small glass-making establishments in other places, but when they do not use broken imported glass, they turn out very inferior goods.

(9) Ice factories.—These are numerous, but the return is defective.

(10) Indigo factories.—There are a great number of these in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces, all owned by individuals singly or in partnership with others; but only three, two in Bengal and the other in the N.-W. Provinces, are managed on the joint-stock principle with limited liability. Great numbers are now owned and worked by natives, but these are still singly small factories. In the Madras Presidency also there are a great number of indigo factories, mostly small concerns. In the Punjab there are said to be 15 factories.

The table must be taken more as an indication of the extent of the industry than as a complete record.

(11) Iron and brass foundries.—These are numerous and scattered over Bombay, Sindh, Madras, Bengal, the N.-W. Provinces, the Panjab and Burma.

(12) Jute presses.—All these are in Bengal.

(13) Lac factories.—There are 24 of these at Mirzapur in the North-Western Provinces. The number in Bengal is not fully stated; they are numerous, and, excepting the factory at Cossipore near Calcutta, in most cases small.

(14) Mineral and aërated water manufactories.—These are numerous and scattered in every Province; so far as information has been received there are 68 in Bengal, 33 in Madras, 70 in Bombay, 32 in Sindh, 43 in Burma, 81 in the Panjab, and 20 in the Central Provinces.

(15) Mines (other than coal mines).—Incomplete. The mica mines in Hazaribagh (Bengal), the ruby and steatite mines of Upper Burma, the tin mines in Mergui, and the gold mines in Madras and Mysore, are alone reported.

(16) Oil mills and wells.—Incomplete. The expression of oil is largely carried on in various places, though the mills in most cases are small. The list includes the petroleum wells in Upper and Lower Burma, the only wells as yet worked on a large scale, and the Petroleum Refinery at work at Rangoon.

(17) Potteries.—This head includes only the Raniganj and Jubbulpore pottery works belonging to Messrs. Burn & Co. of Calcutta, and sixteen small concerns in Burma. The industry is very widespread, however, and is increasing. Art pottery is produced in Bombay and other places, and native works turn out characteristic ware at Delhi, Multan, Aligarh, and elsewhere, though it cannot be said as yet that the work is done on a large scale.

(18) Quarries.—Two quarries are entered, that of the Rajmahal Stone Company with a capital of Rx. 25,000, and the Kangra Valley Slate Quarry Company, with a capital of Rx. 12,000. There were 10 lime quarries in Assam, of which two were not worked during the year.

(19) Rice mills.—Of these there are 59 in Lower Burma, two in Bengal, one in Godavari (the Coringa Company), and one in Tanjore and two at Balsan in the Bombay Presidency.

(20) Rope works.—Ten are entered, of which five in the Madras Presidency and five in Bengal; two of these being at Howrah near Calcutta, and three at Hooghly. The works at Howrah are owned and managed by Europeans, and produce rope and cordage fit for all marine and other uses. Native rope works are very common, but they are small and the rope inferior.

(21) Saltpetre refineries.—There are hundreds of these, worked by natives on a small scale, in Bihar and the North-Western Provinces, and about a dozen in and around Calcutta; one of the latter owned and worked by a European firm. The tables do not include any of the numerous saltpetre factories in Bombay, Madras, Burma, and the North-Western Provinces.

(22) Silk filatures.—With the exception of one in the Dehra Dun, these are all in Bengal.

(23) Silk mills.—A silk mill at Bombay, and another in Calcutta (at Ultadanga in the suburbs), and various silk-weaving factories in Bengal. These latter to a large extent weave tasar silk, are owned and managed by natives, and do not employ European machinery and apparatus. The fabrics woven in the two mills are mainly intended for Burmese consumption.

(24) Soap factories.—Two at Meerut. One of these makes very good toilet soaps. There are many small native soap-works in Bengal and other Provinces, but the soap manufactured is crude and inferior.

(25) Sugar factories.—Five in Madras; in Bengal the large Cossipore factory, with a Capital of Rx. 100,000, and numerous small factories, number not stated; in the North-Western Provinces, one—the extensive Rosa factory at Shahjahanpur, with a capital of Rx. 160,000; and one in the Panjab.

XXVII—concluded.

LARGE INDUSTRIES NOT SEPARATELY TREATED—concluded.

(26) Tanneries.—Forty-four of these are returned, of which 32 are in Madras and 6 in Sindh, one in Bombay, one at Calcutta, two at Cawnpore, one at Agra, and one in Rangoon. The leather works at Cawnpore are important and of large dimensions.

(27) Tile manufactories.—Twenty-three, of which twenty in the Madras Presidency, one in Coorg, and two in the Panjab.

(28) Timber mills.—Of these there are 70 altogether, three in Bombay, of which one is reported in liquidation, five in Madras, eleven in Assam, 46 in Lower Burma, and five in Upper Burma.

(29) Tobacco farms and factories.—The only entry under this head is the plantation belonging to Messrs. Begg, Dunlop & Co. at Poosa, where tobacco is grown, cured, and manufactured after the American methods. Twenty-six factories for the manufacture of cigars have been reported in Trichinopoly, one in Madras, eight in Madura, and four in the Godavari district.

XXVIII.

JOINT STOCK COMPANIES.

[TABLES 1 TO 3, PAGES 419 TO 453.]

The total number of companies which have been registered in India under the law amounts to 2,600. Of these, only 1,065 were working at the end of 1893-94, the others having either wound up or otherwise discontinued or never commenced business, so that about 59 per cent. of the companies started have been failures.

In 1884-85 the number of companies at work was 694, with a paid-up capital of Rx. 20,635,844. In 1893-94 the number of companies was 1,065, and their paid-up capital Rx. 27,510,759, making an increase in the decade of 53·46 per cent. in the number of companies and 63·32 per cent. in the capital. The increase in capital during the year was Rx. 717,573.

The largest part—Rx. 12,758,997 paid-up—of the aggregate capital is invested in mills and presses chiefly for working or pressing cotton, jute, wool, and silk. This capital has increased about 40 per cent. in the last eight years. A great number of the concerns are registered in Bombay, that presidency representing under this head a paid-up capital of Rx. 8,379,289, most of it invested in cotton mills and presses. A sum of Rx. 2,668,863 represents the paid-up capital invested in mills and presses registered in Bengal, their working being mainly limited to jute.

In tea, coffee, and other plantations, Rx. 3,847,716 of paid-up capital are invested, of which Rx. 3,673,866 are held in Bengal, most of the tea companies being registered in Calcutta.

The paid-up capital invested in banking or loan companies amounts to Rx. 3,827,548, of which Rx. 2,374,979 are in companies registered in Bengal and Rx. 803,602 in Madras.

Trading companies have a paid-up capital of Rx. 3,891,539, of which Rx. 873,940 are invested in coasting and river steamer companies, Rx. 990,800 in railways and tramways, and Rx. 2,026,799 are owned by "merchants and traders," a considerable proportion of this latter sum being invested in retail shops and stores, to which the principle of limited liability has been somewhat extensively applied in India.

The capital of mining and quarrying companies is Rx. 1,799,018 paid-up, of which Rx. 1,582,041 are invested in companies registered in Bengal, about Rx. 757,871 and Rx. 696,000 respectively being invested in coal-mining and gold-mining companies in that province.

The other industries individually represent much smaller sums; thus ice-making employed Rx. 171,717 paid-up, chiefly in Bombay and Bengal; breweries, Rx. 169,540 paid-up, all in the Panjab and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

The provincial distribution of paid-up capital invested in joint stock enterprise, and the percentage of each to the whole, in 1893-94, are shewn below. The two provinces of Bengal and Bombay have 84·7 per cent. of the whole :—

	Rx.	Percentage on total capital.
Bengal	12,520,663	45·5
Bombay	10,790,265	39·2
Madras	1,946,082	7·1
N.-W. P. and Oudh	916,923	3·3
Panjab	462,685	1·7
Burma	149,405	0·5
Mysore	383,172	1·4
Central Provinces	261,922	1·0
Others	79,642	0·3
TOTAL	27,510,759

XXIX.

CUSTOMS REVENUE.

[TABLES 1 TO 7, PAGES 454 TO 479.]

These tables give a general view of the duties levied under various Tariff Acts since 1859, and contain figures of the amount of duty collected since 1883-84. From 1859 to 1864 the general rate of import duty was 10 per cent.; from 1864 to 1875, 7½ per cent.; and from 1875 to 1882, 5 per cent. In 1882 the import duties were taken off, the only articles left on the tariff schedule being liquors, arms, opium (the latter giving a nominal revenue, as the duty is meant to be prohibitory), and salt. The last-named article is separately treated (see Part II) and is excluded from these figures. Since 1882 the following changes have been made in the tariff: the duty on liquors was increased in 1887 and 1890 and on salt in 1888; a duty was imposed on petroleum in 1888, and on dry and wet salt-fish (ngapi) imported into Burma from any place beyond the limits of British India in 1893. In March 1894 imports generally were subjected to an import duty at the rate of 5 per cent., but the duty on iron and steel was fixed at 1 per cent., and certain articles were exempt from duty, the most important of them being food-grains, machinery, railway plant, coal and cotton goods. The latter were made dutiable in December of that year. The import duty realised in 1881-82 was Rx. 1,555,237: in the following year the revenue was only Rx. 431,105. In 1892-93 it amounted to Rx. 844,170, and in 1893-94 to Rx. 988,662.

Under the head of export, the general rate of duty from 1859 to 1867 was 3 per cent., many articles being subject to taxation in 1859, but the list was gradually reduced until, in 1867, it consisted of cotton manufactures, indigo, rice, wheat and other grains, tanned and dressed hides and skins, lac, oils, seeds, spices, and shawls. The list was then further gradually reduced, until finally rice alone remained in 1882, this being the only dutiable export at present, besides rice-flour, which has been subject to duty from August 1893. The amount collected in 1883-84 was Rx. 719,068, in 1892-93 it was Rx. 741,194, and in 1893-94 Rx. 660,477.

XXX.

FOREIGN TRADE AND SHIPPING.

[TABLES 1 TO 21, PAGES 480 TO 535.]

These tables shew, for various periods extending in many cases back to 1834-35, the progress of the foreign sea-borne trade of India, for the whole country, for each province separately, and for the principal articles of trade and principal foreign countries; also the progress of shipping. They supplement the annual accounts of the foreign trade which exhibit the progress of the trade for only five years. As the trade of India is fully reviewed separately every year, it is not necessary to offer a summary of these tables here. The average rate of increase in the trade (merchandise and treasure) during the last thirty-three years is shewn below, the period being divided into six periods of five years each and three separate years:—

‡ " " " 1892-93.

The second quinquennium (1866-67 to 1870-71) included some years of intense famine, and it also followed immediately on a period of extraordinary inflation in values caused by the sudden demand for cotton from India which arose out of the stoppage of supplies from the United States during the war of secession. These circumstances account for the restriction in trade values during that quinquennium.

(a) The excise system was introduced into the Panjab in October 1849 in March of which year the province was annexed.
(b) The Internal Branch was organized under Act XXXI of 1861, but the figures for 1861-62 to 1865-66 inclusive are not available.
(c) Not available for the years previous to 1871-72. From 1871-72 the quantity of imported salt only is given. The quantity of locally manufactured salt cannot be given, rough estimates only being available.
(d) In February 1870, the Inland Customs Department assumed charge of the Sambhar Lake and in October 1878 of the Rajputana Salt Sources which previous to that year had been under the control of Native States. The whole Inland Customs Department has now become the Department of Salt Revenue in Northern India and is administered by the Commissioner, Northern India Salt Revenue.

Previous to 7th July 1883 the rate of duty was two, three, or four annas a maund.

Prior to January 1878 the rate was eight annas a maund.

Information not available.

Three annas a maund for Lower Burma from 6th August 1875.
One per cent. ad valorem for Upper Burma.

NOTE.—Selling price means the price at which salt was sold by Government exclusive of duty.

* Per Lahori maund, which is equivalent to 102½ lbs.

† These are the special rates charged at Ganjam and Ichapur (Surla) from 1874 to 1878.

‡ The selling price represents the general selling price of Government salt only. In one or two factories Government salt is sold at 4 annas and in one factory at 2 annas. The price of excise salt varies and averages from 4 to 5 annas per Indian maund.

¶ Four annas is the special rate at Ganjam and two annas at Pandraka. The price of excise salt varies and averages from 2 annas 5·9 pies to 4 annas 6·8 pies per Indian maund.

§ Four annas is the special rate at Ganjam and two annas at Pandraka and Vaippar. The price of excise salt varies and averages from 2 annas 6·6 pies to 5 annas 2 pies per Indian maund.

(a) Four annas is the special rate at Ganjam and two annas at Pandraka and Vaippar and temporarily at Chinna Ganjam. The price of excise salt varies and averages from two annas 3·46 pies to 5 annas 4·66 pies, per Indian maund.

NOTE.—The quantity of total sales is exclusive of 5 per cent. wastage allowed on wholesale transactions.

The figures in columns 7 and 8 (total sales and gross revenue) are with one exception exclusive of dutiable salt imported on private account and inclusive of (1) salt manufactured and sold under the excise system, (2) supplied to the French Government and for fish-curing, etc., as detailed in table 12, (3) exported by sea. The exception is duty on salt imported on private account which is included under column 8, although the quantity is excluded from columns as above stated.

The figures in column 8 also exclude duty remaining unrealised at the close of the year under the credit system, but include realisations of previous year's outstandings and miscellaneous receipts.

(a) The years previous to 1878-79 are fasli years (1st July to 30th June), and those from 1878-79 official years.

(b) Include collections on account of earth salt manufacture in the Ceded Districts and Kurnool, where it was permitted up to January 1879. The charges from 1874-75 also include the compensation paid for closing the earth salt works in Madras.

NOTE.—The quantity shown under Home and Inland Consumption from the year 1873-74 is exclusive of 5 per cent. wastage allowed on wholesale transactions, whereas the figures for the previous years include it. The quantity given from the year 1822-23 to 1873-74 is inclusive of salt supplied to the Amindivi islands.

* This total differs from the "Total of Sales" in the previous account only by the quantity of salt in the column for "Wastage."

From the year 1880-81 the figures above are exclusive of salt imported on private account, but inclusive of salt manufactured under the excise system.

(a) The years previous to 1877-78 are fasli years (1st July to 30th June), and those from 1878-79 official years.

(b) Excludes 3,999 and 28,749 maunds of salt destroyed under condition 14 of the excise license.

* There is no record of the actual number of chests exported from Bombay during the years 1830-31 to 1834-35, and the number of chests for those years has been calculated from the amount of pass-duty collected in each year.

† In the years so marked, calculations similar to the above are not practicable, two rates of duty having existed, while the actual number of chests is not upon record.

* N.B.—The cost of general supervision in Assam, and N.-W. Provinces and Oudh, was charged to the head "Stamps" down to 1891-92. From 1892-93 the sum is debited to the head "General Administration" according to the terms laid down in the Provincial contract rules of 1892-93. In the Central Provinces, such charges have ceased from 1886-87 and in the Panjab from 1889-90.

† The sums of Rx. 251 and Rx. 6 were realised in 1886-87 and 1887-88 from the Ajmere-Merwara districts under the system of granting copies of judicial documents on stamped folios, which, however, was found unsuitable to local conditions and abandoned in favour of the system formerly in force.

NOTE.—The figures in this table show the gross circulation, less the notes of the several circles in the Bombay Presidency which may have been cashed in other circles in the same presidency. From March 1862 to August 1864 there was but one (the Bombay) circle in the Bombay Presidency. The Nágpur Circle was attached to the Bengal Presidency up to July 1867, and its circulation up to that month is included in the totals for the Bengal Presidency, although for convenience of arrangement the circulation of the Nágpur Circle is shown from September 1864 in this table.

TABLE SHOWING OUTTURN OF SILVER BULLION OR SPECIE REMITTANCE FROM ENGLAND TO INDIA.

EXPLANATORY REMARKS.

The calculations used in the preparation of this table are as follows:—

A.—To the cost of an ounce troy of standard silver in London, 1 per cent. is added for freight and charge for remitting, and to the total cost ½ per cent. is added as interest for the time taken by a bullion remittance in excess of the time occupied by a remittance by bill. This sum is divided by the mint outturn of an ounce of fine silver bullion received into the mint after cutting, as given below, and the quotient, showing the cost of a Government rupee in India in pence, is entered in column A:—

One ounce troy of English standard silver	= 2·6909
Mint duty and melting charge at Rs. 21 per mille	= ·0565
NET VALUE .	2·6344
Mint loss in melting at ·25 per mille	= ·0007
MINT NET OUTTURN .	2·6337

B.—The rates in this column are based on the same data as in A, except that ½ per cent. is added as interest.

C.—The rates in this column are based on the transit charges, being 1¼ per cent., namely, freight ½ per cent., insurance ½ per cent., boxes, packing, &c., ⅛ per cent., brokerage ⅛ per cent., interest at ⅛ per cent. The mint outturn of an ounce of fine silver bullion is Rs. 2·6337.

D.—The rates in this column are based on the same data as in C, except that interest is taken at ¼ per cent. instead of ⅛ per cent.

DATA FOR CALCULATIONS.

English standard $\frac{37}{40}$th fine silver.

Indian standard $\frac{11}{12}$th ditto.

1 ounce troy = $2\frac{2}{3}$ tolas.

Charges in England.

Freight, insurance, boxes, packing, brokerage, &c., 1 to 1¼ per cent.

Interest is calculated at 6 per cent. per annum on the time taken by a bullion remittance in excess of the time occupied by a remittance by bill. This excess is calculated at 7 and 28 days, and the interest for the time may be approximately taken at ⅛ and ¼ per cent., respectively.

Charges in India.

Mint duty = 2 per cent.

Mint melting charge = 1 per mille.

Loss in melting silver bullion of inferior quality = ·25 per mille.

† Of this amount the share to be borne by India was fixed at £40,000 a year. In consequence of the abolition of sea postage on letters and post cards from the 1st January 1891, the share was increased by £19,900, and it was further increased by £700 in consequence of the abolition of sea postage on packets from the 1st January 1892. The annual payment now made by India amounts to £60,600.

(a) These banks were amalgamated with the Post Office Banks in 1886-87. The small figures in 1886-87 are on account of an unadjusted difference in the Chittagong Bank.

N.B.—The differences between the balances entered in this account and the corresponding amount in table No. 1 are due to the omission in the former of interest on dead and closed accounts.

NOTE (1).—Throughout this series, with the exception of Table 14, the figures for Merchandise and Treasure include the Imports and Exports on account of Government.

(2).—For the years 1870-71 to 1873-74, revised figures have been included in all the tables in this series for Government treasure, and in Tables Nos. 1 and 2 for Government stores only. As corrected details in regard to articles and countries for Government stores are not available, the revision could not be carried out in the remaining tables, in which the totals of Merchandise for these years will consequently not be found to agree with those in Tables Nos. 1 and 2.

(3).—The figures down to 1852-53 are exclusive of those of subordinate ports of Bengal and Bombay.

(4).—The figures in this series to 1865-66 were taken from returns presented to Parliament. From 1866-67 they have been taken from returns furnished by Local Governments.
